President Asks Sharp Curb On Wiretapping

Seeks New Arsenal Against U.S. Crime

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress today for a big, new arsenal of anti-crime weapons, including a stiff gun control act and a law to virtually ban wiretapping and electronic snooping.

Johnson asked Congress to enact a package of legislation to attack crime from the federal to the local level. He said crimes are costing the nation nearly $3 billion a year in property losses alone.

In one of his longest special messages to the new Congress, Johnson said 7 million persons a year are brought into contact with at least one agency of criminal justice. More than 400,000 are put behind bars a day, in lockups that cost about $1 billion a year to support, he said.

The arms control bill and wiretap bills were part of an omnibus "Safe Streets and Crime Control Act" for which Johnson asksed $50 million in fiscal 1968 to start research and planning grants largely to help improve local police facilities.

One of more controversial proposals is firearms control. There is strong opposition to such proposals from sportsmen groups and gun legislation has been stalled in Congress for almost four years.

CRIME CONTROL

Johnson said, however: "Any effective crime control program requires enactment of firearms legislation."

Citing recommendations of the National Crime Commission which spent many months studying crime and preparing a report on recommendations to stem the rising crime rate, the President said:

"The legislation I am submitting is closely comparable in substance to that which was under consideration in the last Congress. I strongly recommend that the Congress enact legislation to:

"Prohibit certain mail order sales and shipments of firearms, except between federal lisensees.

"Prohibit over - the - counter sales of firearms, other than rifles and shotguns, to any person who does not reside in the state in which the federal licensee does business.

FEDERAL LICENSES

"Prohibit federal licensees from selling handguns to any person under 21, and from selling rifles and shotguns to any person under 18.

"Curb imports into the United States of surplus military firearms and other firearms not suitable for sporting purposes."

Johnson said: "This legislation is no panacea for the

LSD 'Trip' Leads To Jail Booking

A 20-year-old Greenbrae man, admitting he was in downtown San Rafael on his second LSD "trip," went on another trip he didn't expect Saturday — to Marin County Jail.

Stephen Lawrence Murphy of 30 Via Belardo was booked on a charge of being under the influence of a drug in a public place after allegedly threatening to "shoot all the people in Fourth Street."

Patrolman Terry V. Lucchesi reported he was in a patrol car at Fourth and A streets at 11:15 Saturday when Murphy opened the door and got in.

Earlier, the police had received complaints that Murphy had been trying to flag down cars in the area.

Murphy told Lucchesi he was on "a bum trip" and asked to be driven home. He said he was going to remove the police shotgun from its bracket in the car and shoot the people in Fourth Street.

Told the gun couldn't be removed, Mrphy tried to jump from the moving car, said Lucchesi.

At headquarters, Murphy said he had "popped a cap" containing LSD at 6 p.m. and was "at the peak of the bum trip." He had bought the drug in Sausalito for $2, he said.

Police said Murphy was irrational and kept referring to unreal situations and events. The pupils of his eyes were dilated and he had a glassy stare.

It was his second LSD trip, he said. The first, he described as "groovy."

Aviation Legislation Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The results of a three and one-half year long study of aviation's role in California's transportation system were ready for the legislature today in the form of nine bills.

The measures were proposed by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, and Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, chairmen of the transportation committees of the two houses.

The legislation would:

Add two new seats to the five - member California Aeronautics Board, one to represent airports and the other to represent cities and counties.

Create a seven-member airport land use commission in each county served by a commercial air carrier and allow all other counties to have such commissions, to study airport hazards.

Put aviation fuel taxes into an airport development fund and change the method of collection and distribution of taxes levied on airplanes.

Prohibit new buildings within a mile of any public airport if they were a hazard to flying, unless a permit was granted by the state.

Allow the Public Utilities Commission to set air carrier insurance regulations and grant temporary air carrier permits in case of emergency or airline strike.

Make the Division of Aeronautics, not the State Education Department, responsible for certifying flying schools and instructors.

Russian Women, Children Pushed Around By Chinese

MOSCO W(UPI) —More than 300 Russians crowded at the gates of the Chinese Communist Embassy on Friendship Street today and protested against anti-Soviet violence in Peking.

The crowd pushed up to the Lenin hills embassy as the Soviet news agency Tass reported a third planeload of wives and children from the besieged Russian Embassy left the Chinese Communist capital after being "subjected to outrages by rampaging hooligans."

Peking Radio, heard in Hong Kong, unleashed one of its bitterest verbal assaults against the Kremlin, saying Peking army leaders are "not afraid of anything." It said, "the Russian revisionists' doomsday has already arrived. They are like Hitler and Mussolini."

At the Chinese Embassy about 20 Soviet workers pushed to the door and tried to present a petition protesting Peking rioting that involved Soviet citizens being spat upon, shoved and threatened.

Five Chinese diplomats waved them away. One said, "this is a provocation. If you have anything to protest go to your own foreign ministry."

Watched by about 40 policemen, the Russian crowd waggled a banner reading, "we sharply protest the lawlessness against the Soviet people in Peking" and marched off. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported mass meetings across the country protesting the Peking "outrages."

The newspaper said one of the Red Guards harassing the departing Soviet diplomatic families struck an eight-month-old girl who boarded today's second airlift flight home. It said another Russian child and her mother were pushed to the ground.

At Peking, Japanese radio newsmen reported a jeering, jostling Red Guard airport crowd manhandled French, Polish, German and other foreigners in their "most vicious" display to date.

The refugees said hundreds of Red Guards surrounded their buses at the Peking Airport yesterday and held them at bay throughout the rowdy demonstration protesting an alleged Russian attack on Chinese students in Moscow.

The note was followed by a government statement that demanded:

An apology.

Compensation for damages.

A guarantee that no similar incidents would occur again.

A guarantee for the safety and freedom of movement of Chinese diplomats.

Diplomatic sources said the protest and the strong demands may mean the Chinese are laying the basis for a formal rupture in relations.

Three Sources Deny Bobby 'Peace Signal'

PARIS (AP) — The French government, the American Embassy and the North Vietnamese diplomatic mission in Paris today denied a report that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy received a "peace signal" from Hanoi through the French government during his visit to Paris last week.

Newsweek magazine reported the peace overture, which it said indicated willingness by Hanoi to negotiate a settlement of the Vietnam war in three stages, if the United States stops bombing the North. The report said the message came from Mai Van Bo, delegate general of the North Vietnamese mission in Paris and was transmitted to Kennedy and a U.S. Embassy official by the French foreign office's director of Asian affairs.

The French official, Etienne Manac'h, could not be reached for comment. But a foreign office spokesman said: "No message from the North Vietnamese delegate was transmitted by the Quai D'Orsay (the foreign ministry) to Sen. Kennedy during his visit to Paris."

The American Embassy, who had a representative with Kennedy when he talked with Manac'h, said, "We do not know of such a message."

The Vietnamese mission said it "formally denies this report" and added "there is not a word of truth" in it.

Asked about the report last night, Kennedy said through an aide he would not comment until he discussed the situation with the White House and State Department. He would not say whether he means to see President Johnson personally and no date for the talks was mentioned.

Hanoi also said in the official party newspaper Nhan Dan today that peace talks could begin if the bombing stopped. The article, reported in Tokyo, did not list withdrawal of U. S. military forces from South Vietnam as a precondition to opening talks.

The article commented on Johnson's news conference of last Thursday, in which Johnson said he was "not aware at this moment of any serious effort that the other side has made in my judgment to bring the fighting to a stop or to stop the war."

The Nhan Dan article called Johnson's statements "arrogant and bellicose."

Two Divisions Strike Jungle In Border Area

SAIGON (UPI) — American forces today struck at the Communists' greatest war arsenals with two U. S. infantry divisions driving through the Cambodian border jungles and planes chemically defoliating the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) on the North-South Vietnam border.

The one-two blow formed what observers called the greatest American effort yet to smash the Communists' main supply routes and operation bases.

STEAMING JUNGLES

In the steaming jungles of War Zone C, struck seven times in seven days by thousands of tons of bombs from Air Force B-52 Stratofortresses, Americans drove once more into the Viet Cong heartland where for years the Communists have kept their headquarters amd jungle arsenals.

Spokesmen said Air Force transport planes sprayed hundreds of tons of vegetation-killing chemicals on the southern half of the six-mile-wide zone yesterday in an effort to strip away the jungle canopy under which Communist infiltrators hide.

In the air war against North Vietnam, spokesmen said, U.S. jets and Communist MIGs tangled in a brief dogfight yesterday but there was no loss by either side. The American raiders went on to blast North Vietnamese troop barracks 26 miles west of Hanoi.

AIR SUPPORT

U.S. infantrymen, receiving air support from giant B-52 bombers, sere battling Viet Cong forces along South Vietnam's border with Cambodia and reported at least 44 Communist troops killed.

Spokesman said the border battle, called Operation Gadsden, began four days ago but intensified yesterday when .S. 25th and 4th Infantry Division troops attacked three Viet Cong base camps and sent the Communists fleeing for their lives.

Busybody Attitude Of Parents Mocked

By DAVID DIETZ

A Sausalito woman explained how her son wept without apparent reason over a splash of errors on a test paper; a teacher mocked the busybody attitude of some parents, and a series of skits on imaginary problem situations alternately amused and enlightened the audience.

There were ingredients Saturday of a conference aimed at clearing the air of technical language that inevitably pops up when a parent attempts to learn from doctors and teachers why a child is doing poorly in school.

The conference, attended by about 250 persons in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael, was an outgrowth of a recent seminar on students having difficulty with school work. Sponsors were the Marin County Medical Society and the county superintendent of school's office.

The session opened with a parent, teacher and a doctor exploring the problems of communicating among themselves.

The parent, Mrs. Helen Bonapart of Sausalito, related how her son, a good student, came home with an arithmetic test paper showing many errors. When she attempted to ask her son the reason for the poor work, he refused to discuss the matter, then cried.

Mrs. Bonapart said she subsequently approached her son's teacher and asked the reason for his poor test mark. She was told the test had been an experiment to determine students' speed in completing math problems, and that the outcome was not a reflection on the child's ability.

Mrs. Bonapart concluded that an explanatory note should have accompanied the test paper home so that the emotional scene with her son could have been avoided.

Mrs. Beverly Ehreth, a teacher at Pleasant Valley School, Novato, maintained that "parental gobbledegook" was a major

Safe Containing $1,700 In Cash Stolen At Base

A 200-pound safe containing $1,727.99 in cash was taken last night from the base procurement office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

There were no marks indicating a forced entry, but many people have keys to the building, said officer Oliver K. Sansen of Novato police.

The safe was last seen about 4 p.m. yesterday by a janitor as he cleaned the building, Sensen said. The burglary was discovered when the office, just inside the main gate at the base, was opened at 7 a.m. today.

Air police and Federal Bureau of Investigation were called in on the case, in addition to Novato police.

Reagan Asks Holiday Work

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan today asked California's state employees to voluntarily come to work on two of their holidays.

Citing state financial problems as the reason, Reagan requested the workers to report to their jobs on Monday—the day after Lincoln's Birthday—and on Wednesday, Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday. Both are state employee holidays.

Governor Urging March Date Change

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan urged the California Federation of Teachers today to change the date of its planned Saturday march in protest of his controversial higher education program.

Reagan wrote Marshall Axelrod of Los Angeles, federation president, that he wouldn't be in Sacramento on Saturday, when the teachers planned to march.

G.M.-Nader Case Probe Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Justice Department was asked today to determine if anyone lied —or induced others to lie — during congressional testimony last year about the General Motors investigation of auto safety critic Ralph Nader.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., asked the department in a letter not only to investigate for possible perjury but also whether others were induced to perjure themselves in connection with the G.M. investigation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Somoza Family Retains Control

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The Somoza family's continued control over Nicaraguan politics seemed assured today as early returns indicated the expected sweeping victory for Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr. in yesterday's presidential election.

Somoza

Official returns from 101 of the 2,065 precincts gave Somoza's Nationalist Liberal party 20,729 votes to 10,489 for Dr. Fernando Aguero of the opposition Conservatives. A splinter conservative faction led by Alejandro Abuanza Marenco trailed far behind with 454 votes.

An estimated half-million votes were cast, and Somoza, 41, was expected to receive at least 60 per cent of them.

No violence was reported during the voting, but there was a deluge of opposition complaints of vote fraud.

Viet Cong Frees Journalist

TAM QUAN, Vietnam (UPI)—Michelle Ray, an attractive French journalist missing for nearly three weeks, emerged from a jungle today and said she had been held by a group of "gentlemanly" Viet Cong.

Miss Ray

The 28-year-old free-lance journalis was wearing Viet Cong sandals and black pajamas as she arrived at the Tam Quan headquarters of the 40th South Vietnamese regiment. "I feel fine, great; but I'm tired," she said.

Miss Ray, whose disappearance 20 days ago caused widespread concern, said she considered herself more of guest than a captive of the Viet Cong. She said she was stopped by the Communists while driving near Bong Son in the Central Plains.

"It took that long for them to decide what to do with me," she said. "The word went up channels and then came down to let me go. They were very gentlemanly."

French Actress Is Found Dead

MONTE CARLO (AP) — French film actress Martine Carol was found dead of a heart attack today in her Monte Carlo hotel room, her husband reported.

Eland said he found the actress in a coma in the bathroom of their suite about 5 a.m. He said she died in his arms a few minutes later.

Miss Carol had mare more than a score of films.

Reagan Tells State's Need For More Tax

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's fiscal problems mounted today as he said he may ask for more than a half billion dollars in higher taxes—and scale down the property tax relief he promised Californians this year.

But Reagan says part of the new taxes will be returned to homeowners and others in the form of local property tax reductions.

Here is the latest breakdown on his tax requests, outlined in a televised report to the people last night.

A one-cent increase in the present four - cent sales tax. State fiscal experts estimate this would bring in at least $350 million a year.

CIGARETTE TAX

A previously announced $250 million increase. Reagan, for the first time, said it probably will come from a five-cent increase in the present three-cent-a-pack cigarette tax, a 50-cent hike in the $1.50-a-gallon wholesale liquor tax and more taxes "in other specialized areas."

Reagan, in his budget message last week, recommended that the sales tax increase be reserved to make up the loss from local property tax reductions.

But last night, he said some of the new taxes will have to be used to solve immediate fiscal problems.

His decision to trim his property tax relief program may push the governor into a fight with Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood, who wants bigger local tax cuts.

PAYING BACK

But Reagan said he needs more money now to pay back $180 million the previous Democratic administration "borrowed from various state funds."

And "at least for this year some of the increased taxes must be used to pay off that $180 million."

"It will not be until the 1968-69 fiscal year that we will be able to use the entire amount for property tax relief," he said. That starts July 1, 1968.

Unruh and a Republican, Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan of Tracy, have proposed something else. They demand more state aid to schools —something not in Reagan's plan — along with big property tax cuts. They have introduced separate bills.

Reagan said his words mean "bad news, both to this administration and to you."

WELL IS DRY

"To you they mean we are going to need increased taxes," he said. "We are going to have to dig a little deeper into your pockets, not in order to move ahead, but just in order to stay even."

Kerr Blames Reagan For His Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark Kerr says he "very likely" would not have been fired as president of the University of California if Edmund G. Brown were still governor instead of Ronald Reagan.

Kerr blamed Reagan and "a legacy of bitterness" for his ouster last month.

In an interview on CBS' "Face the Nation" yesterday Kerr said Reagan "was certainly much involved in what happened. He made the university an issue starting with his primary campaign."

Kerr said he had been involved in many difficult decisions and that "the university in general and I in particular became the focus of a great deal of criticism."

Kerr said the legacy of bitterness resulted from the 1965 Free Speech Movement uproar, which he said was badly handled because police were called "before discussion and persuasion had been given a chance to work."

Congress Planing Recess On Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress plans to recess late this week for its first 1967 holiday after more tussling with the national debt, the Powell case and reorganization.

The holiday scheduled to start Thursday is for the Lincoln's Birthday period, traditional time of Republican celebrations. It is listed to end by the middle of next week.

Who Worries About Costs? Carnival Time

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A 30-cent beer costs 50 cents, a cold wave was predicted and the French navy seemed to have taken over. But nobody cared, for today was the day before Mardi Gras, the climax of the carnival season.

Only one parade is scheduled tonight, giving the populace something of a breather before the big day Tuesday. But tonight's parade of the Krewe of Proteus is one of the oldest and most spectacular and always receives it share of attention.

The weather forecast indicated the chance of rain would be down to less than 20 per cent by the time Proteus embarks. Proteus has a history of bad luck with the weather, but the old sea god is ready to present a 20-float parade with the "treasures of the earth and sea" as its theme.

Proteus is in its 86th year as a prelude to the revelry which follows on Mardi Gras—"fat Tuesday."

Rex is the dominnat figure Tuesday, the "king of carnival" and the "monarch of mirth," but everybody has his own little kingdom on Mardi Gras and generally carries out his celebration in his own way.

Masking is general, the costumes are crazy, and the behavior would land a lot of people in jail on any other day.

Some do make it to the lockup, but the general police attitude is tolerant unless somebody is going to get hurt.

Weather may be a factor this year, with a predicted high Tuesday in the low 40s, but it is unlikely to stop much of the partying.

Sunday featured the daylight parades of mid-city, Thoth, Poseidon, Zeus and Venus. They were all hampered by rain, but neither the float riders nor the crowds seemed to mind.

Celebrants jammed famed Bourbon Street through the night, toasting each other and the celebration.

Navy men, French and American, were everywhere. Two French and three U. S. warships were in port and the bluejackets were not missing anything.

Second Blaze Fatal To Woman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Harriet Stanley, who survived a 1963 boiler explosion that killed three persons and injured 70 others, burned to death in her San Francisco apartment Saturday.

Mrs. Stanley, 54, a widow who lived alone, fell asleep on her living room sofa while smoking a cigarette, fire investigator George Lucas said.

Mrs. Stanley, crippled in the department store explosion in San Jose, apparently wakened and found the couch burning. She made her way into the kitchen, leaving a trail of burned clothing.

Her body was found on the kitchen floor beneath a phone.

FOES OF KUCHEL LACK POWER BID

'Liberal' Senator's Young Republican Enemies Fail To Sway Convention Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Forces opposed to California's Republican U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel have lost bids to take command of the state Young Republicans and seek a candidate to oust Kuchel.

However, a majority of those attending the annual weekend convention of the California Young Republicans did clearly indicate their intense dislike for the state's senior senator.

AGAINST TUITION

The convention of the volunteer organization ended yesterday badly split over the anti-Kuchel moves and election of new leaders. But it was steadfast in its platform against the current military draft system and the concept of free higher education, but in support of Gov. Reagan's budget balancing economy drive.

The center of controversy was Kuchel, the GOP whip in the Senate and possible successor to current Minority Leader Everett Dirksen. However, Kuchel is the subject of vehement attacks by California Republicans who say he isn't conservative enough for their tastes and votes like a Democrat.

A resolution was proposed by the Santa Cruz delegation "thoroughly repudiating" Kuchel for his "predominant Democratic voting record ... betrayal of Republican party nominees ... and continued failure to support" GOP candidates. It called also for appointment of a five-member committee to work with other Republican groups in finding a nominee to oppose Kuchel in the 1968 GOP senatorial primary.

FLOOR ACTION

However, what the move's backers called a "liberal obstructionist" group blocked the resolution in committee, forcing them to try to win the two-thirds vote needed to bring it up on the floor.

A majority—124—of the delegates voted in favor of considering the resolution, while 105 opposed it, and it fell short of the 153 required. Even some of those who voted against, however, said they dislike Kuchel.

Philip Battaglia, top aide to GOP Gov. Reagan, had told the convention Saturday that the governor would look askance at any moves tending to destroy the party unity he prizes.

And Assembly Republican Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan of Tracy also told the Young Republicans that only cannibals—and Democrats — devour their own.

HIGHLY FAVORED

The organization, claiming 7,000 members, is important in party circles mainly because of the vital campaigning resources and volunteers it provides to candidates it favors.

Mike Djordjevich of Daly City, the outgoing president, had supported the anti - Kuchel efforts and the candidacy of the group's legal counsel, Arthur McClure, 33, of Los Angeles, for new president.

McClure, while not referring directly to Kuchel, left no doubt about where he stood, saying he would campaign statewide in 1968's primary for a "man of integrity and whose loyalties are unquestionably with the Republican party."

However, he lost by an eyelash to John D. Hix, a 34-year-old Fresno cotton buyer. The vote was 118 to 115 for Hix, with 117 needed to win. While the Hix camp screamed and chanted for him to announce the official vote, Djordjevich delayed doing so for half an hour while McClure's backers tried fruitlessly to switch votes.

IMPARTIALITY

Hix refused to be drawn into the Kuchel controversy. He told newsmen he would be an impartial president aiming to work closely with official party circles. Djordjevich's term was marked by feuding with Republican office holders and leaders, and a dispute with the national Young Republican federation.

However, the convention earlier also refused to do something Hix supports — endorsing the "11th commandment" of California Republicanism. This This says Republicans won't denounce each other in campaigns. An attempt to bring up a resolution to this effect lost, 74 "yes" to 148 "no."

Another attempt to table all resolutions went down 119 to 114. Then the body adopted resolutions, one of which supported the current military draft since the nation is in a war, but expressed doubts about its fairness and adequacy.

The official platform had referred to an army of "slaves" and called for a professional military service of volunteers paid well.

"WHIPLASH" INJURY

This type of injury presents a special problem, in that there may be permanent injury unless proper corrective steps are taken at once. As a result of whiplash, there may be a sharp impingement of certain nerves and a consequent ill effect upon health.

A proper and early correction of these impingements may mean the difference between a passing discomfort or a permanent crippling.

CASES FROM OUR FILES
"Can We Ignore Such Amazing Results"

CASE NO. 130
A woman, 43 years old, had been involved in an accident, resulting in whiplash injury. Symptoms of headaches, neck pains were reported. She also complained of nervousness. She stated she had gone to several practitioners and several specialists, but her condition grew worse. She came to our office, was given a Neurocalograph spinal nerve analysis which located the areas of interference to the spinal cord and spinal nerves. X-ray disclosed misaligned vertebrae causing impingement to normal nerve wave transmission. Corrective adjustments restored alignment and removed the blockage from the nerves and allowed the patient to return to complete health within a few short weeks with no symptoms reported.

CASE NO. 167
A 23 year old man had fallen, which resulted in a whiplash to the neck. He was suffering from severe low back pains and was unable to work. He had gone to several M.D.'s and tried other therapeutic methods to get well, all of which had failed to help. After examination had revealed the cause of his problem and his problem was corrected, he was able to return to work with complete freedom from his symptoms.

If you have symptoms or pains of any kind that may have resulted from a spinal injury, we invite you to investigate specific chiropractic.

GERTRUDE MIDDELDORF
Found by husband

CARL A. MIDDELDORF
Was hate motive?

Prominent, Elderly Couples Found Slain

SAGINAW, Mich. (UPI) —A racially mixed neighborhood of this mid-Michigan city was shaken today by the apparently senseless slayings of two prominent, elderly couples — one white, the other Negro.

Carl Middledorf, 63, a former parochial school principal, and his wife, Gertrude, 62, were found dead in their home yesterday.

The Middledorf house is about one mile from the home where Dr. Archie A. Claytor and his wife, Marie, were found bound and shot to death in separate rooms.

Assistant Saginaw County Prosecutor Gerald Dent termed the Middledorf deaths "murders from hate."

Although it appeared the slayer, who broke into the house through a rear window, had rifled some drawers in an aimless sort of way, police ruled out burglary after finding nothing of importance missing.

Authorities also had ruled out robbery as a motive in the Claytor deaths.

"It appears that two persons committed the double murder much the same as the Claytor double murder," Dent said.

Dr. Claytor, a former U.S. commissioner to the Virgin Islands, was named "Michigan's forecost family physician of the year" in 1959. The Negro physician was 73; his wife, 58.

Home Of Minister Involved In Film Feuding Bombed

HAYWARD (AP)—Police said a teen-ager's homemaid bomb blew out a window yesterday at the home of a Baptist minister who was involved in a controversy over the showing of a motion picture at a high school.

The minister said the film was objectionable to Southern Baptists and contained swear words. The movie depicts a Negro's life in the southern part of the United States.

The minister, his wife, and their three children were asleep at the time in their home. No one was injured and damage was slight.

A 16-year-old boy living in the neighborhood was cited for exploding a baby food jar filled with black gun-powder and set off by a six-foot fuse. It had been placed on a window sill.

Police said the boy admitted doing it because the minister was involved in controversy and "it would make a good stunt. I definitely did not intend to harm anyone."

Rev. Elliott N. Paulsen, who is president of the Union City School District board, had objected to the showing of "Nothing But A Man," to English students at Logan High School, where the boy attended.

"The bomb was directly related to the film controversy," the minister said. "Students have been encouraged to make statements against me and to boo and heckle me at meetings by some teachers."

Police said "The matter is being blown all out of proportion," and termed the incident a prank.

The boy, who was not held, will appear at a later date for a hearing in Alameda County Juvenile Court.

Forgiveness Of Spellman Being Called

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Episcopal Bishop of California has called for forgiveness of Francis Cardinal Spellman, who designated the Vietnam conflict as Christ's war against the Viet Cong and the people of North Vietnam.

Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, presiding at the 117th Diocesan Convention in stately Grace Cathedral, said he had never heard a "more outrageous statement" by a bishop than the New York Cardinal's recent comment on the war in Vietnam.

Myers asked God and Pope Paul to forgive Spellman. He also told the audience of 1000 convention delegates Saturday that he has "grave moral doubts" about American military involvement in Vietnam.

Myers, who recently succeeded the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike as Bishop of California, emphasized that he was expressing only his opinion as one bishop.

Dirksen Pact Backing Hoped

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Key Senate Republicans are hoping that their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, will change his mind over the next couple of weeks and cast his vote in favor of the U.S. consular treaty with Russia.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicted that Dirksen, who up till now has been one of the major obstacles to Senate ratification of the treaty, would wind up voting for it.

He said in a weekend interview, "I think you can expect Sen. Dirksen to ask searching questions, but I have a feeling he will recognize this treaty is in our national interests and when that becomes clear to him, he'll support it."

Public Testimony By Rusk Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman J.W. Fulbright said today he has about given up hope that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will testify at his Senate Foreign Relations public hearings on world policies.

Rusk, who encountered some rough questioning last year during the committee's inquiry into Vietnam, twice has turned down invitations to appear on specific dates.

Each time he told committee officials the press of other business would make it impossible to commit himself.

Rusk already has testified at a closed session but some members are eager to question him publicly. Fulbright said in an interview he has about concluded that Rusk will not testify in open session.

"I should think he would like to defend the administration's position," the Arkansas Democrat said. "But if he doesn't want to testify I have no intention of pressing him.

Reminded that Rusk considered last year's attacks unwarranted, Fulbright said he is interested only in finding out where U. S. policies are leading. He conceded he could not control the questioning of other members.

"I don't think the hearings we have held so far (this year) have been too critical of the administration's policies," Fulbright said. "Some of the witnesses have said, for example, that there are some things they wouldn't have done, but they support the President's position now that we're in Vietnam."

Congress Calls Fowler To Explain Viet Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Congress, irked by President Johnson's 100 per cent error in estimating the current cost of the Vietnam war, planned to question Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler today about the administration's "more accurate" fiscal 1968 estimates.

Fowler was scheduled to appear this morning before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress.

Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, charged on the eve of the hearing that Fowler "disputed and denied" last year that the cost of the Vietnam war would exceed Johnson's $10 billion estimate.

The actual cost of the war in fiscal 1967 will come to about $20 billion. Both Republicans and Democrats have sharply criticized the administration for waiting almost a full year before disclosing the $10 billion error.

Fowler said Sunday the estimates of Vietnam war costs for fiscal 1968 "will be more accurate . . . unless there's a sharp turn" toward peace or an escalation of the fighting.

Proxmire called the error "fantastic" and took Budget Director Charles L. Schultze to task last week for waiting so long before admitting $10 billion was not going to be nearly enough to support the war.

"We were badly misinformed," Proxmire said. "This 100 per cent error . . . destroyed all of our economic policies."

Proxmire came under fire himself late yesterday from the Defense Department, which is becoming quite sensitive to congressional criticism."

"Sen. Proxmire has apparently failed to listen to the testimony of Budget Director Schultze, to read the current testimony of Secretary of Defense McNamara, or to study the record," the Pentagon said.

The Pentagon said there was no way of estimating a year ago whether additional expenditures would be required to support the Vietnam fighting.

"The suggestion that a deliberate decision was made to withhold such information from the Congress or the public was untrue," the Defense Department said.

Oakland police arrested 22 youths Saturday and another six yesterday. Most were students at Skyline High between the ages of 16 and 18. Six girls were among the suspects.

Three young persons were arrested yesterday in southern Alameda County bringing to 16 the number picked up in that area as the result of a three-month undercover investigation.

Oakland Police Lt. John Lothrop of the Juvenile Division said more arrests would be made this week.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Many Store Windows Are Broken

Someone on a window breaking spree sped through San Rafael and San Anselmo during the weekend, police reported today.

Fourteen stores in San Rafael — including six on Francisco Boulevard and four on Lincoln Avenue — reported front windows broken.

Police said they were apparently broken by using marbles and a sling shot.

In San Anselmo, windows of three stores on Greenfield Avenue were smashed — two at Cain's Tire Store and one at the Building Supply Center.

Two windows were broken at Braverman's Furniture Store between midnight and 3:30 a.m. today, police reported.

Apparently continuing along Miracle Mile, the window smasher damaged the Fourth Street store window of Volvo Motors, Western Furniture, and Marin County Furniture in San Rafael.

On Lincoln Avenue, windows were broken at Marin Masonry, Marin Rubber and Supply Co., Nipper and Marchant and the Roumiguiere Building.

On Francisco Boulevard, windows were reported damaged at Rossi's Inc.; Barney's Shoes; DeLong Chevrolet; Don Collins Buick; A and E Garage and Turko-Persian Rug Co.

Cars Targets For Thieves

Cars were favorite hits for thieves in San Rafael during the weekend, police reported.

Patricia Lyn Friedrich of San Francisco reported Saturday a stereo tape player worth $128 was stolen from her car while it was parked outside 175 Novato Street.

A similar system worth $200 was stolen Friday from the car of Constantine Andrew Nicholson, in the carport at her home at 122 Surrey Lane.

Gloves, sunglasses and a hat valued at $26 were stolen Friday, reported Dorothy Brooks, 100 Bayo Vista Way, from her car parked at her home.

Parents Demand Teacher Be Kept

Parents of first graders at Pleasant Valley School in Novato will crowd into tonight's meeting of the Novato Unified School District Board to demand that their children's teacher be allowed to continue teaching until her baby is born.

Mrs. Charla Nuernberger's baby is due at the end of June. Under district rules, she is required to resign in her sixth month of pregnancy.

A mother, who declined to identify herself, told the Independent-Journal today that a petition signed by every parent of the class will be presented to the board asking for "special consideration" of Mrs. Nuernberger's case.

Parents feel changing teachers in the middle of the school year is harmful, said the mother. And she said that if the board doesn't accede to their request, parents plan to picket the school.

CRIME

danger of human irrationality and violence in our society. But it will help to keep lethal weapons out of the wrong hands."

Recognizing the chief opposition, Johnson said, "This legislation will not curtail ownership of firearms used either for sport of self-protection. But it will place a valuable restraint on random trade in handguns —The use of which has more and more characterized burglaries and other crimes."

He added that to further delay such legislation is unconscionable."

The President expressed concern over erosion of Americans' right to privacy and said present laws are inadequate to protect them from encroachment through use of sophisticated electronic devices.

The president made public for the first time some of the findings of the crime commission which has been conducting a comprehensive study since mid-1965.

The full report will be published shortly, but the President said these were some of the more pertinent details:

"With property losses approaching $3 billion a year, crime's cost to the economy is staggering. In many stores the cost of shoplifting and employee pilfering sometimes runs higher than the profit margin.

"Much crime is never reported to the police. Unreported crime in some communities runs 10 times higher than reported violations.

"The incidents of crime is highest in the 15-to-21 age group. Fifteen-year-olds commit more serious crimes than any other age group."

Against this depressing background, the President's recommendations were aimed first at crime prevention, better police departments, broader, profound improvement in the present correctional systems, and devotion of substantially greater resources to improving the entire criminal justice system.

'Happy Event' Is Suede Coat

No matter when assistants at the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center saw a particular customer, the mother-to-be appeared in the same stage of pregnancy.

They checked on her a little closer Saturday and found the "happy event" was a $95 suede coat allegedly taken from a rack and pushed under her coat.

Arrested and held today in Marin County Jail for shoplifting was JoAnne M. Cerles, 41, of 10 Dusel Court, Novato, a $399-a-month intermediate clerk in the Marin County Social Services Department.

She was questioned about similar thefts from the store previously but denied knowledge of them, said security officer Donal A. Merkeley.

Hearing Postponed On Access Road

Further hearing on legality of a referendum petition on a Marincello access road has been postponed in Marin Superior Court until 10 a.m. Feb. 28, Judge Joseph G. Wilson said today.

Hearing On Land Rights On Agenda

The Corte Madera Town Council will have a public hearing on an ordinance regulating encroachments on town rights of way today at 8 p.m. at Town Hall.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher suggested the ordinance at the last council session because the town has no ordinance regulating encroachments, but councilmen expressed concern it might affect existing encroachments of hillside property.

D. M. Evans Jr. of 28 Mohawk Avenue has asked for council attention to damage he estimates at $3,000 from flooding at his home, which he blames on inadequate drainage.

The council may call for an election April 25 on annexation of Larkspur properties adjoining Elm Avenue, now in Corte Madera.

The Village Square Association seeks a two-hour parking limit at the square, and the Corte Madera Employees' Association seeks an increase in insurance coverage.

An ordinance may be introduced requiring undergrounding of utilities on new streets.

The council may award a contract for reconstruction of portions of Palm and Buena Vista avenues. Eight bids were received Friday. Low bidder was A. J. Bresnan Co. at $14,070.96; high was McGuire and Hester at $20,202.20. The project was estimated at $15,044.75.

New House Numbering Is Opposed

The county planning department has run into stiff opposition from resident of Tamalpais Valley on a proposal for a new system of house numbers.

County Planning Dir. Paul C. Zucker told planning commissioners today that a hearing on the change has been requested by supervisor Peter H. Behr. The commission scheduled the hearing for Feb. 20.

Verner Von Gundell, chief of current planning, said part of the protest was due to "unfortunate timing."

He explained that the planning department sent notices just a few days before Christmas, saying the new numbers would take effect early in January. "This looked like a railroad through the holiday season," he said.

Present house numbers in the area not in any logical sequence, and a county ordinance requires that numbering shall be done by the planning department under reasonable sequence.

She was described as five feet nine inches tall, of medium build, weighing 150 pounds with brown hair and eyes. She was wearing a navy blue peacoat, pink and green checkered skirt, and black shoes.

Report Claims Liu Is Ousted

TOKYO (AP) — Diplomatic sources in Peking say Red China's President Liu Shao-chi and Communist party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping have been ousted from their jobs, two Japanese correspondents reported from the Chinese capital today.

The reports to Asahi Shimbun and Yomiuri did not say how or when Mao Tse-tung's two leading foes were removed. But resistance to Mao's campaign to replace their appointees in the party and government machinery throughout China was expected to continue unabated.

cause for communications problems.

Conversations with parents, she said, went like this: "Oh, sure my son's bad in science—it runs in the family." Or: "Now he just HAS to do better —both his mother and father are college graduates."

Placing his profession in the middle of the teacher-parent controversy, Dr. Edward E. Shev, San Rafael psychiatrist, asked that a child's problem be interpreted in simple language.

"Parents and teachers should ask themselves what words can I think of so that the other person will understand the situation," he said.

As to his profession, Shev acknowledged that some doctors were "too busy" or had not had adequate training to deal with the problem of emotionally disturbed students.

The keynote speaker, Dr. George E. Gardner, psychiatrist-in-chief at Harvard University Medical School, urged that teachers and parents learn to recognize the "danger signals" from a child encountering trouble in learning in early school years.

He said they are: Unnecessary physical activity in class, resistant to early student training, tempers, a resistance to word usage for communication, and a resistance to regulation of play.

Parents, educators, doctors and students themselves put on three skits portraying hypothetical cases of problem learners. The audience found great amusement in a story about a youth floundering in his high school work. His neglectful father, it turned out, was a university official and a former member of the school board.

FRANK BORRADORI

Frank Borradori, a 73-year-old San Francisco patient at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael, died yesterday after he slipped and fell in a hospital bathroom.

Coroner Donovan O. Cooke reported no one witnessed the fall and Borradori was found by a nurse at 5:30 a.m.

He was immediately examined by a doctor who said the patient did not appear seriously injured by the fall, the coroner reported.

Later, nurses noticed Borradori was extremely ill. He died at 12:25 p.m. before his doctor arrived at the bedside.

The case was listed officially as an "accident" today. The coroner said Borradori had suffered a bone disease for some years and had been in the hospital since August, first in San Francisco and later in San Rafael.

In addition, the patient had a heart ailment. The hospital had reported his strength had been slowly failing, said Dr. Cooke.

Borradori is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Laura Boldocchi of San Francisco.

300 SHOPS COAST-TO-COAST

Remember when you used to pay $33.00 to fly to Los Angeles?

Well, PSA changed all that. Now it's $11.43.

It's true. PSA pioneered low air fares. And what did it get us? Well, lots of passengers for one thing. Oh yes, and some competition from other airlines who were forced to lower their fares from time to time.

So what do we want—a medal? No, but it might be nice if you bought a ticket sometime. Especially since we still have the lowest air fares.

Electra Jets to Los Angeles, $11.43; San Diego $17.78. Fan Jets $13.50 and $19.85. San Francisco/761-0818 Oakland/835-2555 San Jose/286-4720 or your travel agent.

POLICE HAUL AWAY DEMONSTRATOR

Police pull a screaming woman demonstrator in the direction of a paddy wagon during an outbreak in Stockholm by 50 leftist youths protesting the Vietnam war. Supervisors Will Debate Park Policies

Proposal for a reorganized park and recreation commission, cut-back in county share of state-aided programs and deletion of one-man county fire stations will be debated by Marin County supervisors tomorrow.

The board meeting will open at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center with a joint session with members of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

On the agenda for that discussion is the proposal by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen for creation of a commission with city and special district representation that would offer management services for both neighborhood and regional recreation.

The county administrator's office will recommend that the board order closure of the one-man fire stations at Bolinas and Inverness. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows notes that these men have not had relief drivers for some weeks and the trucks are manned only four days a week.

Barrows recommends that the trucks be moved to Point Reyes Station and Throckmorton Ridge stations.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that the county cut back its participation in state supported programs by the same proportion that state aid is reduced. He said that this policy will probably be adopted by most counties in the state.

The board is also to consider a request of the Kentfield Fire District for county money in supporting construction of a new fire station at College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The county has asked that 600 feet on the ground floor of the new station be reserved for a sheriff's substation. The fire district believes that the county should contribute to the cost of this space.

Prize-Winning Dog Is Beaten To Death

A prize-winning show dog called Blonkin was found savagely beaten to death in its kennel at San Anselmo Saturday.

San Anselmo police said heavy flower pots, an oil drum and other articles were found inside the kennel at 1310 San Anselmo Avenue.

Apparently the junk had been thrown at Blonkin — a Great Pprenees — by the unknown assailant who then climed the six-feet high fence and struck the dog in the face with a blunt instrument, police reported.

No one was at home in the adjoining house at the time of the attack. Owner Richard Olcese was ill in Marin General Hospital and his wife, Billie, was staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Baruh, in Ross.

Mrs. Olcese found Blonkin — who would have been one year old yesterday —in a pool of blood when she called at the house Saturday to exercise him. She was still too shocked yesterday to talk about it.

But her father said: "This is a terrible and shocking thing to have happened. Whoever did it must be out of their minds. Blonkin was a gentle and lovable dog."

He said the dog had won several prizes in local shows and the Olceses had high hopes for its future.

"More than that he was a fine pet and a great comfort to my daughter, particularly at this time of her husband's illness," said Baruh.

Police passed the case to the Humane Society of Marin County and three officers spent several hours at the kennel Saturday.

Baruh said he would work through the society to post a reward for information which might lead to a conviction.

Woman Victim Of Hit-And-Run

Claudia Lynne Grolitzer, 29, of 17 Balclutha Drive, Corte Madera, suffered minor injuries yesterday when her car was struck by a hit and run vehicle on Paradise Drive, Tiburon, about 3:15 p.m., California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Grolitzer told the patrol she saw four teen-age boys in the 1950 two-door green Chevrolet, which had no license plates. She said she would see her own doctor for treatment of her injuries.

Father Fails To Save His Son In Surf

PESCADERO (AP)—A father rescued a small boy from the strong undertow at Pescadero beach yesterday, but his own son was swept out of a rescuer's hand.

Brian McDowall, 8, his brother Douglas, 10, and Bradford Williams, 9, were playing on a rock that juts into the Pacific ocean. They were swept from the rock by a high wave.

William McDowall of San Mateo, father of two of the boys rushed into the ocean and grabbed the Williams boy. Denis and Don Athanacio, 20-year-old twins from San Lorenzo, also rushed to rescue the boys and Don grabbed Brian.

Douglas managed to reach a rock and cling to it.

But another big wave snatched Brian from Don Athanacio's grasp and the youth was swept out to sea. Authorities searched for the body but did not find it.

Vote Consolidation On Council Agenda

Consolidation of a $500,000 sewer bond measure with the April 18 school board election will be requested by Mill Valley City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in City Hall.

Also on the agenda is proposed amendment of the zoning ordinance to allow conditional use permits for non-conforming commercial buildings in residential zones.

Larger Lots To Be Viewed

The San Anselmo Planning Commission will consider an ordinance to increase the city minimum lot size, now 5,000 square feet, today at 8 p.m. at city hall.

An ordinance requiring subdivision developers to donate land or money for parks will also be considered.

Gerald Curtis seeks continued non-conforming use of an apartment at 32 Humboldt Avenue, and Glen Douglas seeks a permit for a sign painting business at his home, 26 Austin Avenue.

Park Plans On Group's Agenda

Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club, will hear a preliminary report on a park and recreation facilities plan to be included in the city's general plan.

Commissioners will also discuss the run-down condition of steps at the Fairfax Pavillion.

Utility Plan To Be Voted Tomorrow

Residents of Bolinas and Bolinas Beach public utility districts will vote tomorrow on the proposed merger of the two districts.

Also on the ballot will be five candidates for the three-man board which will be created if a majority of voters in each district approve the merger. The new district, to be called Bolinas Community Services District, would become effective July 1.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Residents of Bolinas district will vote downtown in the Community Center, and residents of the Bolinas Beach district will vote in the clubhouse on Elm Avenue. A total of 243 persons are registered in the two districts, 121 in Bolinas and 122 in Bolinas Beach.

Candidates are Raymond E. Sarraille, contractor, and George F. West, real estate broker, both members of the Bolinas district board of directors; Jose A. Silva, construction supervisor and member of Bolinas Beach district board; Charles G. Hadley, retired Air Force officer and former chairman of the Bolinas Beach district board until he resigned two years ago, and Capt. David S. Edwards of Bolinas Beach, investment manager.

All five have urged voters to approve the merger.

Seabee Reserve Passes Inspection

The San Rafael division of the Navy's Seabee Reserve, under Lt. Cmdr. David R. Storm of 305 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, yesterday passed an inspection by Capt. William F. Kopfler, Seabee program officer in the 12th Naval District.

Captain Kopfler urged that the division recruit more men, who have fulfilled their military obligation and have not been on active duty for two years, for participation in the division's one weekend a month drills.

Greenbrae Home Loss Donations Requested

The Greenbrae Property Owners Association is soliciting donations to aid Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stone, who lost their home at 292 Via La Paz as the result of a slide in recent heavy rains.

The association is requesting all Greenbrae residents and other interested person to send contributions to help the Stones "regain some of their uninsured loss," reported Mrs. Ruby Streiff, association publicity chairman.

The Stone home was demolished last week after it was undermined and threatened to slide down a bank onto the home of Robert W. Bauer at 100 Via Navarro.

Contributions should be sent to the Stone Fund in care of the Wells Fargo bank, P. O. Box 210, San Rafael, Mrs. Streiff said.

Association directors voted to solicit funds at a special meeting Thursay, she said. They also cast a vote of appreciation to the City of Larkspur for the emergency measures it took to safeguard homes in the slide area.

Reds Change Meeting Place

BERLIN (UPI) —The Communist bloc foreign minister's meeting, scheduled to begin in East Berlin today, was abruptly switched to Warsaw, the Communist newspaper Berliner Zeitung said.

The meeting was called by Eastern Germany to halt further West German contacts behind the Iron Curtain. The East German move was spurred by the signing of a diplomatic accord last week between Communist Romania and Bonn.

Romania snubbed the Communist meeting by sending Foreign Minister Cornel Manescu to Belgium instead.

Pro-Peking Milan Drive Is Watched

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Police say pro-Peking Italian Communists may be planning a nationwide terror campaign to bomb military bases and shoot leading members of Italy's pro-Moscow Communist party.

Investigators said arms caches were discovered over the weekend in Milan and in Palermo, Sicily. Among the dynamite sticks and weapons was a high-powered rifle with a telescopic sight.

No Miniskirts For Policewomen

ROME (AP) — The government has blown the whistle against miniskirts for Italian policewomen.

A decree says new uniforms for the law-enforcing ladies this summer will consist of pale blue short-sleeved blouse and a gray skirt reaching to the calf.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.
For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart. Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart! (Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)
We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too. We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.
Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or glass breakage.

We'll be happy to see you!

INCOME TAX FACTS

Some Tips About Real Estate Rules

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

If you sell your personal residence at a loss, the loss is not deductible. If you make a profit, part or all of the profit may be taxable.

If within a year of the sale of the old house you buy another house costing more than the old one sold for, then you will not be taxed on any of the profit you made on the old house. If you don't buy another house, then you are taxed on all the profit you made, as a long term capital gain if you owned the old house over six months.

Wikel

If you buy a new house costing less than the net price you got on the old house (selling price less commissions and other expenses), then you are taxed on the difference between the net on the old house and the cost of the new house. In effect, you are being taxed on any of the profit you did not sink into the new house.

The old house must have been your principal residence. A summer home or vacation cabin wouldn't count.

Any of your profit which is not taxed serves to reduce the cost of your new house for tax purposes. In other words, if you made $5,000 on the old house and it was not taxed, if you ever sell your new house you would have to reduce the cost figure you show for the new house by the $5,000 untaxed profit on the old. This would make your profit bigger on the new house. But of course you could continue to put off paying tax on the profit by continually "buying up" a little as you change houses.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Widow Advised Annuity Best For A High Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a 64-year-old widow and don't know just what to do. I get $99 monthly in Social Security and have a $55 a month pension which ends next year. I will need more income then to help me out every month and will appreciate your advice. My savings total $28,000." C. M.

A. Your letter suggests that you have no heirs. If that is so, I would consult a reputable insurance agent and find out what return you could get from a $15,000 straight life annuity. This would pay you a guaranteed monthly income substantially higher than you could obtain from any other safe type of investment and more than you are getting from the pension which is ending. The principal would revert to the insurance company after your death.

If you invest $15,000 in an annuity, I would leave the remaining $13,000 in your savings account as a reserve against emergencies.

Q. "I am in my late forties with a wife and three children. My work is hard and I'm trying to build up enough capital to retire at age 57. I own Great A. & P., Colgate, Puerto Rican Cement, Nopco Chemical, Thomas & Betts, Cooper-Jarrett. What should I do?" P. R.

A. I surely hope that you will attain your objective. To that end, however, you should hold only issues which operate in growth areas and which have a record of strongly rising earnings, dividends and price. Thomas & Betts is the only stock you own which seems to fall into that category.

The other issues you hold are all right in their way, but they do not seem best suited for enhancing your capital over the next few years. I advise you to switch them into American Home Products, American Hospital Supply, General Telephone & Electronics and Bristol-Myers.

Stock Market Closes Lower In Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today. Trading was heavy.

The market went through one of its rare declines of 1967 as profits were taken on many issues which have made good gains this year.

An undercurrent of speculation on whether the Vietnam war may be nearing the stage of a truce was said to be ne factor. Also cited were signs of a business slowdown, tougher tax talk and rising inventories of auto dealers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10.5 million shares compared with 12.02 million Friday.

The sustained January advance was finally getting a minor correction, brokers said, and this was accompanied by further signs of a business slowdown, tougher tax talk and rising auto dealers' inventory.

Eastern Air Lines sank 3 points while losses of about 2 or more were taken by Xerox, U.S. Smelting, United Air Lines, Texas Gulf Sulphur, American Hoist & Derrick, Continental Air Lines and E. G. & G. Inc.

Down about a point were American Airlines, Kennecott, Jones & Laughlin, Ling-Temco-Vought, Scientific Data and Gulf & Western Industries.

Itek sank near 4 points.

The California savings-and-loan holding companies continued active and higher. California Financial, up about a point for a big percentage gain, was the volume leader.

First Western Financial also was ahead about a point and almost as active. Great Western Financial added a fraction.

Also bucking the downtrend Douglas Aircraft rose 2 or more and IB M (ex-dividend) about 1½.

American Stock Exchange prices headed lower on balance despite some sharp gains. Trading was heavy.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Supersonic Travel And Some Important Medical Findings

Humans may be the weakest link in the safety of supersonic air liners. A broken window, for example may create a pressure differential equivalent to an altitude of about 20,000 feet. Exposure of a few seconds may not affect a healthy young individual, but will create considerable stress upon the circulation of asthmatics, the elderly, or those with heart trouble.

VAN DELLEN

However, this possibility is remote and, at the present time, authorities do not anticipate serious problems. The passengers and crew must be protected against sudden outbursts of cosmic radiation. Special devices give ample warnings of this possibility and the pilot can avoid these vibrations by changing his course and altitude.

SUPERSONIC AIR liners travel so swiftly that people are transported through many time zones within a short period. This problem exists to a lesser degree among international jet travelers. A disruption in our intrinsic timing mechanism (diurnal rhythm) causes unusual fatigue, insomnia, or gastrointestinal disturbances.

Many organs of the body function on a 24-hour cycle. They behave one way during the day and another at night. The body temperature, for example, is lowest in the morning and highest at 4 p.m. This rhythm has been noted also in the number of certain blood cells (eosinophils). Sleeping and posture may play a role, but we usually blame a disruption in the working cycle that exists in some organs.

WHEN A traveler jets west and catches up with the day before, the body may not know the difference, but the passenger adjusts to local time. If so, what schedule will the kidneys follow and is the body temperature on German or California time?

Fatigue after a long trip also may stem from psychological stresses. This has nothing to do with the type of plane. Most of us have some apprehension at the takeoff and on landing.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

CAUSATIVE GERMS

H.T.R. writes: Are diseases such as Rocky Mountain spotted fever and typhus caused by viruses?

REPLY

The diseases mentioned are caused by rickettsial organisms. Formerly these germs were considered large viruses, but they now have their own classification (rickettsial). In size and nature they lie between bacteria and viruses, and the diseases they produce can be combated by the antibiotics and other remedies, whereas viral diseases usually are resistant to drugs.

INFECTION SOMEWHERE

N.L. writes: What causes pus in the urine?

REPLY

Inflammation somewhere along the urinal tract. The most common locations are the kidneys, bladder, or the tube that leads to the outside (urethra). In men, infection of the prostate may be responsible.

BREASTBONE PUNCTURE

L.O.L. writes: What is a sternum tap and what is it done for?

REPLY

This test is done to obtain bone marrow for laboratory study. Bone marrow is a precursor of blood and an analysis may reveal abnormalities long before they can be found in the blood.

Today's Health Hint—Exercise also is needed in the winter.

"The Mercedes-Benz 230S is over-engineered," say the critics. A welcome excess, say the facts.

Up front in the 230S is an exotic, single overhead camshaft Six. Underneath, one of the most sophisticated suspension designs outside the racing world. And the 230S doesn't really need its 9.9-inch front disc brakes. Sheer engineering extravagance—or something better? Read on, then decide for yourself.

SOME critics claim that the Mercedes-Benz 230S uses unique technical features when something more mundane would do. That it's "over-engineered."

The Publisher of Car and Driver magazine recently summed up the case for the 230S:

"It has more than enough brakes for its potential speed. It has the capacity to go around a corner much, much faster than anybody's ever going to go. It rides very well. The seats are designed to sustain loads and provide comfort over a longer period of time than anyone is ever going to sit in them. It's a 100 percent kind of automobile."

To those who view a car as a machine and not an image builder, this "over-engineering" makes eminent good sense. And makes the 230S well worth its $4900 price. Some reasons for that price—and some answers to the charge of "over-engineering":

"Everybody in America is going fast today, but how many of us can stop?"
—David E. Davis Jr.

The 230S can stop—and stop and stop and stop. Two strong reasons: a 9.9-inch disc brake on each front wheel.

Designed for 150-mph racing cars, disc brakes banish the threat of fade in repeated hard use. The threat of brake "lock-up" is vastly reduced. Water and dust have little effect.

Extra benefits at no extra cost: A power assist that takes the work out of braking, and dual circuit brake lines that remove the possibility of total brake failure.

"It will go down a nasty little one-lane country road just as well as it goes down the New York Thruway"
—Automotive editor

It has to. Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 156 countries where nasty little one-lane country roads are often the only roads. A spongy "boulevard" ride won't do in Afghanistan or Iceland. Mercedes-Benz engineers had to come up with something better.

Their solution, borrowed from racing experience: a fully independent, rear swing axle suspension.

You can slam the 230S over a railway crossing and it won't still be bouncing half a mile down the road. You can travel corkscrew mountain passes and enjoy the ride. If so inclined, you could smoothly sweep around a racing circuit—without as much as pumping up the tires beforehand.

Another reason for the roadability in every 230S: standard equipment in every 230S includes heavy-duty shock absorbers, heavy-duty coil springs, front anti-sway bar, hydropneumatic load leveler at the rear axle, and 4-ply, super-premium grade tires. There's no extra charge for a 4-speed floor shift, either.

No gasping or guzzling

Those big V-8's can cruise at 90 mph—at 8 miles per gallon or so. Tiny engines sip fuel, but at 65 mph they're gasping for breath.

The 230S gives you the best of both: its 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine could run at a restful 90 mph for hours, yet doesn't guzzle gas in normal driving.

This design was originally intended for the brutal stresses of racing. The engine is built up to near racing tolerances—as fine as .019 of a millimeter for bearings.

And it's built on a snail's-pace assembly line, where sample engine blocks are snatched away at random, chopped in half, and every dimension scientifically measured.

"They don't build them like they used to"
—modern American lament

Mercedes-Benz presents radiator medallions to owners who have clocked 60,000, 250,000, and over 300,000 miles. The demand is steady.

A contributing factor: the 230S body is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 points. This "unit" method of construction makes obsolete the separate frame and body type, with its nuts and bolts and rattles.

Sheet metal on many body panels measures a millimeter thick (pound your fist on the 230S roof; you don't feel a wobble, you hear a "thunk!").

The 230S ranks as one of the world's sturdier 4-wheeled machines, because Mercedes-Benz ranks as one of the world's stubbornest car builders.

The company has never stopped building them like they used to.

"A car is not a rolling boudoir, a rocket ship or an oak-panelled library —so it shouldn't look like one!"
—industrial designer

The 230S seats five in considerable comfort. It does not lure you with stereo tape players or 443 color combinations. It doesn't have to:

"When you jump into it and close the door and start it up, the way the switches work, the way the door handles work, the way the seat feels when you get into it, the way the ratchet on the seat recliner feels when you change the seat adjustment—all of those things add up to an overwhelming feeling of luxury." —David E. Davis Jr.

The Mercedes-Benz 230S poses the question—is there such a thing as too much car for the money? Clip coupon for answers.

Engineered for safety

The 230S imparts a feeling of reassurance; it puts the driver and his passengers at their ease. It is engineered to help you avoid trouble, and it is engineered for maximum protection if trouble should occur.

Front and rear body sections are designed to yield on violent impact, to absorb shock before it can hit the passenger area. Some amazing tests have shown that in roll-over crashes at 65 mph, the roof stayed intact. Inside, you will not find one careless or shabby touch. The rearview mirror is spring mounted to snap off if struck, for example. The steering wheel hub looks like a doughnut; it is padded, not pointed.

Room For Economy In Official Publications

Varied and voluminous reports are issued by state agencies in the form of "progress reports" or quarterly and annual reports to the public.

Many of these publications perform a valuable service in informing the public on how the taxpayers' money is being spent, how those eligible may take advantage of the services offered, and to give the public an indication of how rapidly or slowly progress is being made in various fields such as highway construction, water projects and personal services.

In some cases, the publications tend to go overboard, with liberal use of full page colored photographs on top quality paper. The end product, while pleasing to the eye, must have created quite a drain on the budget of the department issuing such publications.

Each department no doubt has well-qualified professionals to turn out these publications. Some of them are elaborate and colorful enough to give private commercial publications competition.

But now that the state is undergoing a series of belt-tightening measures that are threatening such essentials as education, more restraint seems to be in order for those charged with issuing periodic reports to the public.

In this respect, we agree with a recent decision by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to urge the state to cut down on publication costs wherever possible.

They authorized a resolution to be sent to the Governor and decided to collect all state publications during the month of February and deliver them in crates to the Governor's office.

Sending such material "in crates" to Sacramento may demonstrate Marin's concern with the costs of publication. However, we feel that a more constructive approach would be to give credit where credit is due, and single out only those that appear to be non-essential or overly elaborate for the purposes for which they are intended.

Sending cratefuls of material as a "blanket accusation" against publications carries the danger that the public will be cut off from essential information and communication emanating from Sacramento and its district offices.

Expensive pamphlets, illustrated with pages of colored photographs, certainly should not be issued at random. But the issuance of reports, tables, and charts in mimeographed form is one of the legitimate and desirable functions of state agencies, responsible to the taxpaying public.

The Drumming Of The Flicker

We have some Flickers in our neighborhood. We see them only occasionally, but we hear them industriously tapping and drumming away at some tree or wooden structure. Since our house is wood, we are glad they are not too friendly.

When a pair of Flickers become attached to a structure, they are very difficult to discourage. We know of a case where Flickers kept after a totem pole, despite tin patches and coatings of tar, until they completely disfigured it.

They are very attractive birds— at a distance.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan's 'Looting' Charge Ends His Honeymoon With Legislators

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Mixed reactions followed Gov. Ronald Reagan's presentation of his 1967-68 budget to the state legislature.

Generally, the feeling was that Reagan, in seeking a 10 per cent budget cut, and requesting economies from all agencies of state government, was merely attempting to carry out the mandate of an electorate which put him in office with nearly a million majority.

On the other hand, there was resentment expressed over the new governor's use of the word "looting" applied to the past administration's handling of state funds. The word was used in a report to the people television presentation prior to delivery of the budget message.

REAGAN WAS criticized both by Senators Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, and George Miller, D-Contra Costa, who interpreted the meaning of the word as a reflection on the integrity of the state legislature. The legislature approved previous state budgets.

The two senators held that if anyone "looted and drained" the treasury, the governor must be referring to the solons, rather than the Brown administration.

There was every indication in the capitol that with presentation of the budget, the "honeymoon was over." Every new governor, regardless of party, has a "honeymoon" before the sparks start flying, and the opposite party starts shafting. Reagan's use of the word "looting" probably had more to do than anything else with dropping the wall of ice between the Democrats and Republicans, which was pretty well frozen by the time the governor appeared before the two houses and delivered his message.

ALSO CAUSING some comment was the television show the evening preceding the budget message, which appeared on one channel of news comment. On this show, Reagan was giving his report to the people. Periodically, the show was interrupted to have Hale Champion, former director of finance under Brown and Alan Cranston, deposed state controller, break in with disparaging comments.

The sentiment was to the effect that this method of down-grading a governor was on the order of dirty pool. No one would deny either Champion or Cranston, even though they are now nothing more than private citizens, the right to express their views anywhere they please, or where opportunity is offered. But common courtesy and practice would seem to demand that any individual be permitted to make his statement without interruption and contradiction.

OFFICIALS OF the California Taxpayers Association said after the presentation that they believe presentation of the budget as a framework for consideration by the legislature presented opportunity for action which could slow down the spiral of state spending.

The association will work with the administration and legislature in attempting to work out suitable solutions to solving the fiscal troubles of the state, to the end that proper cuts can be effected, while esential state services are maintained.

Basically, the budget message and the framework budget presented to the legislature, is nothing more than an attempt to carry out the results of the last election, which indicated the state is ready for a return to sounder principles of financing than have been used in the past.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Chilean Fund Response Good

Editor Independent-Journal:

It was with great pleasure that we saw your editorial of Jan. 16 commenting on our fund drive for the Chilean student exchange program sponsored by the Sausalito Sister City Fund. This exchange between Tamalpais High School and the public high schools of Vina del Mar, Chile, has been very successful so far, and we are looking forward to its continuance. You will be pleased to know that the request for funds has received a fair response to date. We now have about half of the funds we will need for this year's operations.

We would like to use this means to thank you for your continuing interest in our People-to-People program, through news coverage, and now this fine editorial comment. We would also like to use this means to thank the many people who have contributed to our present fund-raising campaign; their number makes it impossible to send a personal word of thanks to each contributor. We also would like to remind those of our good friends who are planning to send us a contribution that we will appreciate hearing from them.

Frances McCarty, our next exchange student, will be leaving for Vina del Mar soon. She should have a little time to get her Spanish flowing, and to get acquainted with her new family, before school starts the first week of March.

Contributions to the Sausalito Sister City Fund, P. O. Box 175, Sausalito, for this exchange program are tax deductible. Thanks again.

School Paper, A Good Idea

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Though in accord with most of the I-J coverage, I find your two articles on High Times at some variance with the real situation. Marin Catholic has not severed connections, in fact, has been a valuable and consistent contributor. Secondly, Mr. Neumeier did not shake them to pursue their own unsupervised path.

In a position of teaching and supervising young people, I watch keenly to discern their maturing philosophies, and I must admit their attitudes are much more forthright and realistic than that of our generation. That they do not condone many inconsistencies which we practice causes critics to immediately class them as "reactionaries." I know many of the contributors of High Times and none could be remotely classified as "beatnik."

I would like to suggest that any interested person should get a copy to read, rather than judge from hearsay. Features, news articles, sports coverage, and editorials are well balanced, well written, and have been cleared through their school news bureau. The Novato press group should accept the challenge of improving their output, rather than isolating themselves.

The world is leaving us behind and if the output of High Times is a measure of tomorrow's top citizens, I am not worried about the future. (We could not have done nearly as good a job when we were in high school.)

Commendations to Mr. Neumeier and the High Times staff. The potential of the county-wide high school paper has no limits!

Reagan's Ideas Are Not Shared

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last night I read a short, and short-sighted letter to the editor by Mrs. Williams. I wonder if she was talking about the governor of California. He, Reagan, has proved exactly what he is, in an extremely short time. Those who have "get" and if you're a have-not, "tough." In other words under his regime, those who can afford an education will get one. You will deserve one if your parents can afford it. What a poor sense of American justice that is! Also the first slash should have been to affect the rich, not help them. But first thoughts of our big property owner, "Reagan," was to lower taxes for the big businessman. Then slash university costs. This man Reagan is for the rich and he is not for the man with the dinner bucket.

I would bet anything I have he'll never be elected to anything again, much less governor. In my opinion, he should be impeached before he completely ruins California. California has led the world as far as college education is concerned. The maximum could benefit. Now this will no longer be true. To begin with Reagan deplores welfare, well people who are uneducated are on those rolls, so he is aiding and abetting lack of education in the tuition situation. I hate to see this state ruined and it's on the way with this rich fanatic. He wants to make the poor poorer, the rich richer.

Thanks A Lot To Flood Helpers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thank God for good boys and friends!

Saturday, Jan. 21, from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. we experienced our own havoc at 260 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, along with at least six neighbors.

Thanks to Mr. David Kahler, General Manager Duracite Manufacturing Co., Inc. and his employee, Bob Dalton (a friend of our son, Frank). They arrived at the most crucial moment with two palates, approximately 150 fifty-pound bags of calcium chlaride, a large roll of cellophane and some large pieces of plywood that saved us from having water and mud through the front door.

Wiiliam Seeger, Manager MMWD, was instrumental in getting 150 potato sacks that we were able to fill with muck (that had gathered in front of garage door) and build a barricade on the sidewalk for at least 200 feet north. This curtailed the heavy current of water to the street.

Ron Mick, Bob Dalton, Garry Frugoli and Rocky Parrott were our volunteer helpers and Bob Milani from United Markets delivered our groceries by wading through two feet of water and mud while on his lunch hour.

Sunday we were assisted by Gen Tucker from Custom Builders who with a large scooper made it possible for us to remove our cars that had been blocked by two feet of mud in front of the garage door. The following young men, Bob Dalton, Bob Milani and Tye Johnston assisted our sons, Jim and Frank, to remove the barricade at the front door and clean up passages.

We thank all our friends who called and offered assistance in many ways (too numerous to mention).

Yes, there are more GOOD BOYS than there are "Bad Boys."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THE SQUAD of a big pro football team was startled at practice one afternoon when a turkey strutted onto the field and demanded an opportunity to show his stuff. Sure enough, he was not only a superb passer, but ran repeatedly right through the team's strongest defense unit.

"You're terrific," beamed the coach. "We'll give you a hefty bonus if you will sign up for the full season." "Forget the bonus," said the gobbler. "What I want to know is: Does that full season extend past Thanksgiving Day?"

ARTER TWO taxicabs collided at a busy intersection, the following conversation was recorded:

First driver: "Whassamatter, you jerk? Ya blind?"

Second driver: "Blind? I hit ya, didn't I?"

HUSBAND TO vacationing wife: "Boy, there's nothing like freedom from marital coddling. I've now reached the point where I can put on my socks from either end!"

LBJ Repeats Same Vietnam Story In His Press Report

WASHINGTON -- President Johnson, using a news conference to make a major appeal for peace in Vietnam, admitted frustrations nine times but the irony in what he said is that he said it all before.

This time he simply pulled a bunch of the pieces together, dipping all the way back into 1965, and presented them in one big bundle to a listening world with the obvious intent of showing his earnest desire for a settlement.

He was clearly answering the critics of American foreign policy and probably had no effect on them since nothing he has said along the same lines before did.

Nine times, in one form or another, Johnson said "In all candor, I must say that I am not aware of any serious effort that the other side has made, in my judgment, to bring the fighting to a stop and to stop the war."

AFTER HIS Honolulu conference last February with South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, Johnson and Ky in their communique said they "noted with regret the total absence of a present interest in peace" by North Vietnam.

Thus, through repetition, Johnson attempted to show the consistency of the American position in wishing peace while being ignored by the Communists.

There was nothing off-the-cuff about Johnson's performance. Vietnam had been high in the news for days, with speculation that the North Vietnamese were beginning to throw out hints they wanted to discuss an end to the fighting.

THE PRESIDENT came prepared against any slip of the tongue. He had a loose-leaf book with notes in front of him and glanced at them constantly as he gave his lengthy answers to short questions.

The news conference lasted nearly 30 minutes and almost all of it was taken up with questions about Vietnam. Under ordinary circumstances Johnson could have said all he had to say in about three of those minutes.

The fact that he took up all the time he did is pretty good evidence that he wanted to make Thursday's appearance before the televised news conference a major production on Vietnam.

AS LONG AGO as April 7, 1965 at Johns Hopkins University Johnson had said "We remain ready for unconditional discussions." Thursday he said the same thing.

Johnson even repeated, with a slight variation, the picture of his troubled self lying awake at night thinking about the war.

At Johns Hopkins he said, "Every night before I turn out the lights to sleep, I ask myself this question: Have I done everything I can to unite this country? Have I done everything I can to help unite the world, to try to bring peace and hope to all the people of the world? Have I done enough?"

THURSDAY HE put it this way: "I go to bed every night feeling that I failed that day because I could not end the conflict in Vietnam. I do have disappointments and moments of distress, as I think every President has had. I am not complaining." Johnson drew a broad picture of the various ways in which he thought peace talks could be started, beginning with discussions and going on to negotiations.

He had said this in different form in 1966, just as most of what else he said Thursday was a rerun or an echo of what he said last year.

Ike Is Courted On Consular Pact

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Former President Eisenhower is a potentially pivotal figure in the intensifying Senate battle over ratification of the consular treaty with Russia.

With hearings temporarily sidetracked while the Senate Foreign Relations Committee conducts a "review" of foreign policy, both sides on the consular pact are using the interlude to seek Eisenhower's support.

They believe a statement by him would materially aid in tipping the scales in their favor.

TREATY SUPPORTERS are privately saying that Eisenhower's endorsement could influence enough Republican senators to give the Administration the two-thirds vote needed for ratification.

At present, according to treaty backers, 10 Republicans are definitely favorable, and five others tentatively so depending on Eisenhower's approval of the pact.

A total of 67 votes, two-thirds of the Senate's membership, is needed for ratification.

WORKING CLOSELY with the White House in the strenuous backstage effort to win President Eisenhower's endorsement is Sen. Thruston Morton, Kentucky, former Republican National Chairman and Assistant Secretary of State in the Eisenhower Administration. Morton is in the forefront in the Senate, maneuvering to line up sufficient votes to ratify the treaty.

At the suggestion of Secretary Rusk, Morton made a direct personal appeal to Eisenhower to publicly declare for the agreement. Morton proposed this be done in an exchange of letters with President Johnson or to Republican Senators favoring the pact.

Morton also assured Eisenhower that a White House briefing on the controversial treaty would be arranged for him if he desired it. It was indicated that President Johnson would personally brief him.

Also stressed by Morton in his talk with Eisenhower was that his secretary of state, the late Christian Herter, had endorsed the consular agreement.

SENATE REPUBLICAN Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Sens. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa and Karl Mundt of South Dakota, senior GOP members on the Foreign Relations Committee, are spearheading a party move to persuade President Eisenhower either to take no stand on the issue or to side with them.

Ike, according to insiders on both sides, is keeping his own counsel. He has listened to all views and all he has positively committed himself on so far is that, before making up his mind, he will discuss the matter with close advisers whose judgment he values on foreign affairs. One of them is former Vice President Nixon.

ALSO SIGNIFICANTLY, Eisenhower has asked both sides to provide him with information on the views of the late John Foster Dulles, secretary of state throughout most of Eisenhower's administration, on the question of expanding relations with Russia.

Tom Lowney, forward on the Court House Creamery quintet in the San Rafael Athletic Assn., set a league and county record when he scored 33 points.

The San Anselmo, Kentfield and Fairfax school districts asked Marin County supervisors for a total of $96,400 in state aid funds for construction.

No One Will Guess What Will Happen To Promoter Douglas

No one, least of all our astute board of supervisors, will venture a guess on what will happen tomorrow when the County Department of Economic Development, its past and its future, comes up for discussion again.

Will the grand jury's recommendation be followed? Will its director, the friendly John M. Douglas, be out of a job?

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for anyone to answer these queries directly. Douglas himself says he has no idea what will happen. County Administrator Alan Bruce says that he will recommend alternative procedures, depending on the policy decision made by supervisors.

As Malcolm J. Sinkerwart would say, "It's a hot potato." (Thank you, Malcolm.)

However, there is some talk afoot about finding some other spot for Douglas in county government. It is true that most of this talk has come from me.

Douglas was hired to promote county government and there are several ways he could do it without being in charge of a special department. Certainly the "Douglas Affair" itself has failed to strengthen the public trust in government. The way it has been handled, you might say it has demoted the county.

AMONG THOSE things that would promote Marin would be an election that came off without a hitch. Think about that for a while. Marin might make national headlines. This is certainly in the interest of promotion and development.

Perhaps Douglas could be placed in the election department.

Another problem that many residents of the county are well versed in is flooding. A dry home is also in the field of promotion and development. Douglas might well make a good flood control czar.

Another weak spot in county government is data processing. Repair of this department would be a real boon, a solid promotion, a bright development and a joyous sound before the Lord.

DOUGLAS MIGHT also be able to solve the mysteries in the personnel department, the very mysteries which he inadvertantly exposed at the time of his own hiring.

This, incidentally, was not his fault, it was simply a serious lapse in the political judgment of former supervisor Byron W. Leydecker. No matter how pure the intentions, the public gets suspicious when you put your neighbor on the county payroll, especially when the neighbor is sixth on the list of candidates.

That bit of business presented one heck of a handicap for Douglas, a new man on a new job. But he showed that it was a handicap he could overcome. What he cannot beat is the fact that most people are not ready for a separate department in county government for promotion—not when there are so many other things that should be promoted first.

TO BEAT THAT, Douglas has to have some help from supervisors and the many other officials of realm. That is the kind of help that is very, very slow in coming.

Parks Commission To Meet A Day Early

Hoover Attitude Jolts Faith In FBI Spy-Catching Legends

WASHINGTON — As one of J. Edgar Hoover's most ardent admirers, I was very surprised to read of the FBI director's stand on a proposed U.S.-U.S.S.R. Consular Treaty. It seems the administration wants the treaty because it would mean that we could have consulates in several cities throughout the Soviet Union. In exchange the Soviet Union could set up consulates in U.S. cities on a quid pro quo basis.

The treaty has had tough going in the Senate because Hoover is said to be against it on the grounds that it would give the Russians a chance to set up more spy cells in the United States and that it would give the FBI more work to do. Hoover raised the question of whether the G-men could control the new threat of espionage.

THIS ATTITUDE about spies and espionage came as a surprise to those of us who have been raised on movies and magazine articles about Hoover and the FBI. The one thing we could always be certain of, until Hoover started writing letters to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was that the FBI could catch any spy a foreign power tried to plant in the United States.

The impression that has always been given is that the more spies the Communists sent to this country, the better the FBI liked it. And every time the FBI rounded up a Soviet spy ring the nation cheered and the President gave Hoover another medal.

If the truth be known, Hoover's department thrived on Soviet spies. It was the stuff FBI legends were made of, and there wasn't a man, woman or child in this nation who didn't sleep better at night knowing that as hard as the Commies would try to penetrate our secrets, Hoover and his gallant agents would stop them.

BUT NOW for the first time Hoover has indicated that he would be hard put to keep track of Soviet spies if we permitted the Russians to open consulates in our major cities. He has said in effect that the FBI could no longer guarantee us protection against those who would be sent to this country to steal our blueprints and to microfilm our defenses.

Hoover unknowingly sent shudders of fear down our backs, because if he can't protect us against the dastardly Soviet spy system, then who can?

Obviously it isn't a question of manpower, because all Hoover has to do is go before the Senate and explain the new spy threat to them. In exchange he would get all the men he needs. Money is also no problem, because the greater the espionage, the more funds Congress will give him to fight it.

SO THE ONLY thing one can guess is that Hoover is getting tired of catching spies. A man who has caught as many as he has probably wants to take it easy, and there is nobody in this country who would begrudge him this.

It would be unfair for the government to burden the FBI with new problems just because the administration wants to work out a detente with the Soviet Union.

If the Senate turns down the Consular Treaty for no other reason than to give Hoover a much needed rest, I would be the last to criticize them.

THE ONLY THING that worries me is that without fresh spies, where will the FBI get new plots for its television series?

'NATURAL SHOWMAN'

German Shepherd, Bought As A Pet, Close To Championship

By BETTY FROST

"I bought a pet," said Miss Catherine Rottier of her handsome German shepherd, "and to my surprise she turned into a show dog."

Wyndean's Michelle, who recently won best of breed at the Golden Gate Kennel Club dog show, was purchased by Miss Rottier in Michigan when the pup was 11 weeks old. In the two years that they have been together they have changed one another's lives considerably.

Because of "Mickey," Catherine Rottier, a former San Francisco resident, purchased a home in the Reedlands district of Tiburon. Because Catherine went to the Golden Gate Dog Show a year ago and thought the German shepherd chosen best of breed looked a lot like Mickey, the dog has undergone the training regimen necessary for a show dog and has acquired an impressive array of awards.

CATHERINE ENLISTED the help of Bob Metzner, handler and breeder from Contra Costa County, to assess Michelle's potential. The big dog is so friendly and such a character that the first time she appeared in the ring and before Metzner had had a chance to begin her serious training, she went up to the judges and offered to shake hands. Now, a year later, she is a veteran of many shows, and so well controlled that she can stand motionless for 15 minutes or more.

"She is the biggest ham in the world," says Michelle's owner fondly. Her handler calls the big dog "a natural showman who learns quickly." Both are delighted with Michelle's rapid rise in dogdom's inner circle. The dog is now within a few points of the 15 required for championship. It usually takes two years to establish championship, according to Metzner.

PROBLEMS? YES, a few. For Mickey the dog show road to fame means dieting. "And she is always hungry and teases for tidbits," sighs Catherine. Her daily ration is one pound of meat, one pound cottage cheese, kibble, vitamins and a special food supplement to keep her coat shiny.

Miss Rottier has learned to shut closet doors, keep clothing out of the dog's reach, and is on a pretty strenuous program herself, committed to long daily walks in the Tiburon hills, where Michelle sometimes chases the deer. "She wants to catch them to play with them," says Miss Rottier. Grooming is also a daily chore, as the animal must be brushed down carefully after her walks.

Titian-haired Catherine is a nurse on the University of California School of Nursing faculty. She is now working on a research project at U.C. Hospital. A native of Michigan, she acquired her nursing training at Mercy Central School, Grand Rapids, Mich. She received her B.S. degree from Catholic University. During World War II she was in the U.S. Army Nurse Corps, with the rank of first lieutenant. She served overseas at Tinian and Japan.

SHARING THE TIBURON home is Catherine's mother, Mrs. John M. Rottier of Fremont, Mich., who spends the winter months in Marin.

Michelle's mistress enjoys painting, plays the piano, and reads a lot, both professional publications and books for pleasure. Travel is also a hobby—her most recent trip was to the Orient.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH 78-pound Michelle is taking her owner for a brisk run. Daily runs in the Tiburon hills are a part of the program for "Mickey" and Miss Rottier, while the big dog trains to achieve championship status.

Mickey is the first dog I have owned since I was a child," Miss Rottier said, with affectionate pride. Despite her unexpected achievements in competition, it is evident that the frisky two year old remains a most satisfactory pet.

Agriculture Dean Predicts Use Of Computers On Farms

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—The world must duplicate in the next 34 years all the progress made through agriculture since the beginning of time if enough food is to be produced for the three and one-third billion more people expected to populate the earth by the end of this century That's the view of Russell E. Larson, dean of the College of Agriculture at the Pennsylvania State University.

Larson says computerized record keeping systems, modern farm management techniques and an understanding of the proper use of capital and credit will be needed increasingly by farmers for adequate agricultural production.

He said farms will become more specialized on a commodity basis to take advantage of economical size and fuller utilization of large machines and complicated, expensive technology.

'NATURAL SHOWMAN'

German Shepherd, Bought As A Pet, Close To Championship

By BETTY FROST

"I bought a pet," said Miss Catherine Rottier of her handsome German shepherd, "and to my surprise she turned into a show dog."

Wyndean's Michelle, who recently won best of breed at the Golden Gate Kennel Club dog show, was purchased by Miss Rottier in Michigan when the pup was 11 weeks old. In the two years that they have been together they have changed one another's lives considerably.

Because of "Mickey," Catherine Rottier, a former San Francisco resident, purchased a home in the Reedlands district of Tiburon. Because Catherine went to the Golden Gate Dog Show a year ago and thought the German shepherd chosen best of breed looked a lot like Mickey, the dog has undergone the training regimen necessary for a show dog and has acquired an impressive array of awards.

CATHERINE ENLISTED the help of Bob Metzner, handler and breeder from Contra Costa County, to assess Michelle's potential. The big dog is so friendly and such a character that the first time she appeared in the ring and before Metzner had had a chance to begin her serious training, she went up to the judges and offered to shake hands. Now, a year later, she is a veteran of many shows, and so well controlled that she can stand motionless for 15 minutes or more.

"She is the biggest ham in the world," says Michelle's owner fondly. Her handler calls the big dog "a natural showman who learns quickly." Both are delighted with Michelle's rapid rise in dogdom's inner circle. The dog is now within a few points of the 15 required for championship. It usually takes two years to establish championship, according to Metzner.

PROBLEMS? YES, a few. For Mickey the dog show road to fame means dieting. "And she is always hungry and teases for tidbits," sighs Catherine. Her daily ration is one pound of meat, one pound cottage cheese, kibble, vitamins and a special food supplement to keep her coat shiny.

Miss Rottier has learned to shut closet doors, keep clothing out of the dog's reach, and is on a pretty strenuous program herself, committed to long daily walks in the Tiburon hills, where Michelle sometimes chases the deer. "She wants to catch them to play with them," says Miss Rottier. Grooming is also a daily chore, as the animal must be brushed down carefully after her walks.

Titian-haired Catherine is a nurse on the University of California School of Nursing faculty. She is now working on a research project at U.C. Hospital. A native of Michigan, she acquired her nursing training at Mercy Central School, Grand Rapids, Mich. She received her B.S. degree from Catholic University. During World War II she was in the U.S. Army Nurse Corps, with the rank of first lieutenant. She served overseas at Tinian and Japan.

SHARING THE TIBURON home is Catherine's mother, Mrs. John M. Rottier of Fremont, Mich., who spends the winter months in Marin.

Michelle's mistress enjoys painting, plays the piano, and reads a lot, both professional publications and books for pleasure. Travel is also a hobby —her most recent trip was to the Orient.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH 78-pound Michelle is taking her owner for a brisk run. Daily runs in the Tiburon hills are a part of the program for "Mickey" and Miss Rottier, while the big dog trains to achieve championship status.

"Mickey is the first dog I have owned since I was a child," Miss Rottier said, with affectionate pride. Despite her unexpected achievements in competition, it is evident that the frisky two year old remains a most satisfactory pet.

Marsha Youkers Exchanges Vows With Gerald W. Lapora

Marsha Youkers of Sausalito became the bride of Gerald Warren Lapora of Mill Valley on Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

The single ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Wesley C. Baker with the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Youkers of Sausalito, given in marriage by her father.

She wore a full length Empire styled gown of Chantilly lace with train fitted at the waist.

Maid of honor was Carol Martinon of Sausalito, and bridesmaids were Judy Lapora of Mill Valley, sister of the bridegroom, and Wendy McNeil of Mill Valley. Their gowns were of sheer organza over taffeta fashioned like the bride's dress, with that of the maid of honor in gold and the bridesmaids' in moss green.

THE BRIDEGROOM, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lapora of Mill Valley, was served by Harold Olson of Monterey as best man, and the bride's brother, Michael Youkers of Sausalito, showed guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Sausalito Woman's Club. After a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the couple will live in Mill Valley.

The couple are both graduates of Tamalpais High School. The new Mrs. Lapora is employed with the Elite Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

Gerald served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is employed with United Airlines. He is the brother of Rickey and Kathy Lapora of Mill Valley and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank York of Mill Valley.

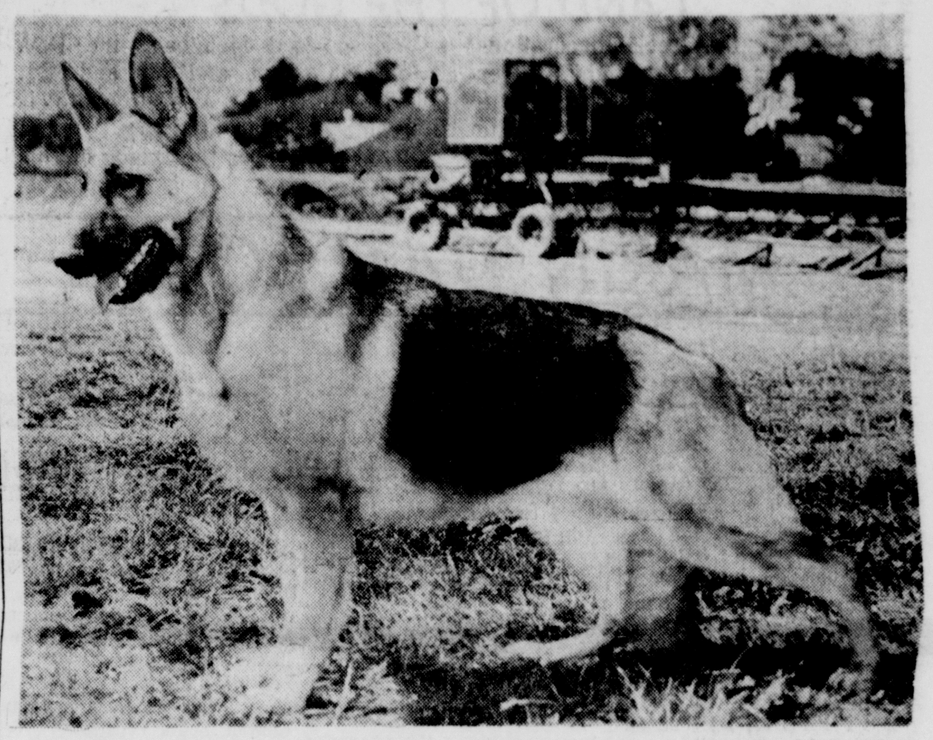
Agriculture Dean Predicts Use Of Computers On Farms

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—The world must duplicate in the next 34 years all the progress made through agriculture since the beginning of time if enough food is to be produced for the three and one-third billion more people expected to populate the earth by the end of this century That's the view of Russell E. Larson, dean of the College of Agriculture at the Pennsylvania State University.

Larson says computerized record keeping systems, modern farm management techniques and an understanding of the proper use of capital and credit will be needed increasingly by farmers for adequate agricultural production.

He said farms will become more specialized on a commodity basis to take advantage of economical size and fuller utilization of large machines and complicated, expensive technology.



AS WITH MOST beautiful females, Wyndean's Michelle is careful about diet, exercise and good posture. Shown in show stance, the prize-winning German Shepherd from Tiburon can hold this postion for 15 minutes.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Other Woman Advised To Trade Bridal For 'Going Away' Dress

DEAR HELEN:

My boyfriend and I have been going together two years, and got engaged three months ago. We'll be married this summer, if nothing goes wrong.

The problem is: His wife! About a year ago he walked out on her. You wouldn't believe how awful she treated him. Didn't understand him, complained about everything. He even had to lie to get spending money. She went to a lawyer and made him pay $15 a week to support their two kids. She has a job and didn't need it, and we do, to start our married life.

But the worst is she won't divorce him, so he is going to divorce her, but we're afraid she'll make trouble in court and try to spoil things for us. She won't even discuss it, just goes around with her nose in the air. She's got us on pins and needles. We're willing for her to keep the children, so what's she upset about?

We've got a nice church wedding planned and I know we'll be happy. How can we be sure his stupid wife will stay out of the way? — N.H.

DEAR N:

The way it looks from here, you can be sure of only this: one woman in your triangle is stupid, and it isn't the wife. If you've bought your wedding gown, trade it in on a "going away" dress — alone!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm in my 20s, have five children, two school age. My husband gets up at 5 a.m. to be at work at 7, as he has a considerable distance to drive.

I want to get up and fix his breakfast, but if I do I'm dragging all day. I can't nap, as the other three children need watching. I've tried tonics and vitamins; they don't help. My husband feels very hurt if I'm not up, and I feel guilty. Please tell me how a dragged-out mother can be pleasant, alert and vivilized on six hours sleep a night? — TIRED AND GUILTY

DEAR T AND G:

She can't. And your husband shouldn't expect it. Give him a good dinner, a pleasant evening, lessons on how to cook an egg, and promise that it won't always be this way — only until you get your second wind.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you do when you know your child sniffs glue? This is all around us, even in the schools, I understand. How can you stop the senseless habit? —MRS. T.M.

DEAR MRS. M:

If glue-sniffing has become a habit, your child needs a psychiatrist. He evidently feels so inadequate that he'd face illness or even death to escape everyday life.

If he has tried it "just for kicks," get him to a doctor, fast. A talk with an expert will show him only fools risk their health on stupid expeiiments.

Frankly, your letter (and several similar ones recently) is a surprise. I thought all young people had been so thoroughly warned about the dangers of glue-sniffing that the craziness was as dead as they might be, had they continued it. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 31, male, and divorced. I find it extremely hard to strike up a conversation with a woman. May I suggest that females take more of the initiative? If a woman sees a man she might like, why can't she ask him to go out with her? Why must it always be the man who must face rejection?

If women want equality with men, they should help some of us guys who don't have the nerve to make time on their own. — D.S.

DEAR D:

According to reports from chased males, many of them do. Perhaps your trouble is that your shyness makes you seem "married" and unavailable. Women only take the initiative with men who look as if they'd "initiate" back.—H

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Fill Cracks First

Fill all cracks in ceilings and walls before repainting. Smooth patches level with the surface. Small hairline cracks can be filled with spackling material. The compound sets rapidly, so smooth the surface before the filling material is dry. Apply the compound with a putty knife.

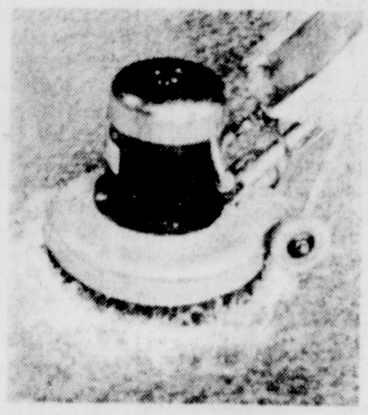
DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning
This unique new process cleans deep and yet treats the finest carpet with loving care . . .

DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action are used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need of frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.
OLD


The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric . . . and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!
THIS DEEP STEAM PROCESS IS GUARANTEED TO BE COMPLETELY SAFE ON ALL FABRICS UNDER ALL CONDITIONS!
The advantages of DEEP STEAM CLEANING are obvious!

A SUNNY, BALMY CALIFORNIA DAY

Joske Asked To Present Park Plans

Bolinas Beach Improvement Club Saturday night invited Pirre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, to present his plans for park development of three acres on Ocean Parkway at the next club meeting, March 4 at 7 p.m. in Bolinas Mesa Clubhouse.

County acquisition of the land from Bolinas Beach Public Utility District is opposed by many club members, reported secretary-treasurer A. C. Pfefferkorn.

Legal status of the parkland is in doubt, Joske has advised district directors Arthur Smadbeck of New York, who subdivided the mesa in 1927, has started paying taxes on it and may go to court to re-establish his ownership, Joske said. The land, on the bluff between Overlook Drive and Juniper Road, was deeded to the community to develop as a park.

The district "has no intention of giving any property away unless the people want to," said John S. Lancaster, chairman of the district board.

Annual Cat Show For Sausalito

Pedigreed cats and kittens of nearly every recognized breed will be on display Feb. 18 and 19 in Sausalito when the Marin County Cat Fanciers holds its 15th annual championship in the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street.

The show, a benefit for the Marin County Humane Society, will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. both days, according to Henry Siefer of San Anselmo, club president and show manager.

Stella Harlos of Milwaukee and Mrs. Walker K. Johnston of San Diego will judge the all-breed shows, while Mrs. Arno Beck of Chicago, on a repeat visit to the Marin show, will judge the specialties.

College Of Marin Band Has Openings

There will still be openings in all sections of the College of Marin Community Band when it holds its first spring semester rehearsal at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Butler building near the campus football field, according to conductor John H. Myers.

Membership in the band is open to adults and college and high school students.

MUSIC REVIEW

Pianist Julian White Gives Series An Excellent Start

By JAMES WILLIAMS

Mill Valley's Center for the Performing Arts' Sunday music series was launched last night with a high caliber performance by pianist Julian White, a Berkeley resident who has a large following on this side of the bay.

White is a pianist who has a deep understanding of the old masters as well as a fine touch for the 20th Century compositions.

The pianist, who teaches at California State College in Hayward, opened his lecture-recital with Corelli's Folies d'Espange —12 variations of a melodic Spanish melody. His reading was never too harsh and his rhythmic tempo was of the finest shading.

Next on the program was Fantasy in C Minor K475 by Mozart, a composition which the 18th Century described as opera for piano. White's clearly executed style enabled the listener to pick out the heroine, hero and villain.

White switched to the 20th Century for his next two works —displaying an astute awareness of more modern compositions.

First was Scenes d'Enfante by Mompou, in which the composer, who is now in his 80s, looked back into a child's life. Here the guest handled the score in a poetic manner, commonly associated with the impressionist period of art.

He next turned to Bartok's Elegy No. 2 Opus 88, a moody five tone selection from the composer's early days. It was a dazzling show of runs with the underlying melody throughout.

For his major work, White selected Fantasy in C Major (The Wanderer) by Schubert. This time the artist forgot about the score before him and played it practically from memory. It's a towering selection with the rhythmic idea taking shape in the adagio. It has a murderous fugue-like finish, but White never lost control and finished in a flurry of keyboard dynamics. If anything was upsetting, it was his hurrying from the presto to the allergo finale. It could have been more clearly defined.

After a warm response from the sellout crowd at Mill Valley's Golf Course clubhouse, White came back with two encore numbers—Chopin's Nocture in C Minor and the last movement from Mozart's D Major Sonata.

Besides giving the new series such an excellent launching, White, who is the brother of Mill Valley's Mayor Albert E. White, played the recital as a benefit to the new organization.

Next on the Sunday series will be Joel Andrews, harpist, on March 5.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Dear Liar' Is Another ACT Triumph

SAN FRANCISCO — "If I could write letters like you, I'd write letters to God," Mrs. Patrick Campbell wrote to George Bernard Shaw at one point in their tempestuous 41-year relationship, a good portion of which was carried on by correspondence.

"Dear Liar," currently in the repertory of the American Conservatory Theater at the Gary, is a dramatized compilation of the letters between the vitriolic playwright and the famed actress who created the role of Eliza Doolittle in Shaw's "Pygmalion."

It is performed with consummate artistry by Sada Thompson and Michael O'Sullivan, and staged with graceful ease by Jerome Kilty, who wrote the play.

GREAT HUMOR

Although Stella Campbell continually pointed up her own inadequacies as a writer, the text of her letters showed great humor and an excellent gift for word imagery. This, coupled with Shaw's never-failing wit in his missives, makes "Dear Liar" a mine of laughter, as well as an insight into two of the most amazing characters in a not-long-gone era.

The play takes us from 1899 to 1940, the year of Mrs. Campbell's death. Kilty stages it with enough variety to make it far more than two characters reading letters. For example, Shaw runs through rehearsal scenes of "Pygmalion" with Stella, leading up to one of their frequent and violent quarrels, and giving Miss Thompson a chance to air a delicious Cockney accent.

Again, he reads a scene from "The Apple Cart" which is obviously based upon their own relationship, and sparks fly. In fact, the generation of charged friction, a must for good drama, runs throughout the production.

TITLE SUBJECT

Shaw's talent for manufacturing his own truths, irrelevant of facts, is highlighted in the correspondence, and leads to the title, from her letter in which she calls him "Liar, liar . . . dear liar."

The perversity of both Shaw and Mrs. Campbell lends drama, for he, despite his adoration, refused to give up the complacent comfort of Charlotte, his wife; while Stella responded by informing him on the evening of the wildly successful opening of "Pymalion" that she had married another man, George West.

Above everything else, "Dear Liar" is a completely literate evening of theater, and its ACT performance leaves nothing to be desired.

Miss Thompson plays Stella with an imperious quality that lends authenticity to her performance, and blends a warm emotional depth into a wholly believable character.

A PIXIE SHAW

O'Sullivan presents GBS as a beardless pixie, who alternates from almost childlike emotional involvement with Stella to violent vituperation. He subtly ages the character as the years pass, but never loses the tremendous vitality which is embodied in both chacters.

Stuart Wurtzel's simple, yet rich looking set, and John McLain's unobtrusive lighting add finishing touches to the brilliance without flamboyance that characterizes this entire production.

ACT should have a real winner in "Dear Liar," to be seen again in the announced schedule on Thursday and Saturday.

First Lecturer

Archeologist-author Louis S. B. Leakey who has spent more than 30 years in Africa in search of man's origins on earth, will open the College of Marin spring semester concert-lecture series with "Progress and Evolution," Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the college gymnasium.

CONCERT REVIEW

Symphony Shines In 'Don Quixote'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Admirers of the music of Richard Strauss must have reveled in last night's second program of the 15th season of the Marin Symphony, performed in the College of Marin gymnasium.

Not only was it all Strauss, but Strauss conducted by a master interpreter, for Sandor Salgo studied under the composer—including specifically the major work of the evening, the "Don Quixote" tone poem consisting of ten variations on a theme of knightly character, Op. 35.

It was a difficult program testing the capabilities of every performer.

Usually the high point of a concert is the finale. The closing suite from the opera "Der Rosenkavalier" was brilliant and exhilarating, but the opening "Don Quixote," which is one of the four tone poems marking Strauss's highest development as an orchestral composer, was more fascinating.

Salgo produced from the 80-piece orchestra both a lustrous, sensuous tone and a powerful, dynamic one in this colorfully orchestrated work reminiscent of Berlioz, a major influence on Strauss.

Top honors went to Jean Mitchell, whose cello spoke eloquently for the mad knight Don Quixote. Her playing had both an infinitely delicate and passionate singing tone in lyric passages and the strong bite required in dramatic ones. Especially memorable were her solo for cello adagio in the fifth variation and her handling of the death theme in the finale, which is one of the permanent musical treasures of romantic character.

This was the best performance we have heard from Jean, who is a consistently excellent musician.

High praise is also due Lucien Mitchell, whose viola was entrusted with some of the themes associated with Don Quixote's trusty companion Sancho Panza.

Concertmaster Charles Meacham, too, played a key role in the success of the work in leading the strings through beautiful but perilous passages, as he did throughout the program.

There was plenty of dissonance, but in contrast to many contemporary pieces, it was well motivated, as in the baaing of the sheep in variation two, expressed by the extraordinary flutter tonguing of the woodwinds and brasses.

Visual as well as vocal charm was provided by guest artist Soprano Cohleen Bischoff in "Four Last Songs," aptly named, since Strauss composed them the year before he died. Though they dealt with the approach of death, they contained soaringly ecstatic music that showed off the lyric but full bodied quality of Miss Bischoff's lyric-dramatic soprano.

She handled the long, arching melodic lines reminiscent of Wagner with a smooth legato and fine control of slowly increasing and diminishing volume. "Spring," the second song, required great agility in negotiating very wide intervals. In the first song, "September," she was nearly overpowered by the orchestra, but this situation improved later.

The closing suite from "Der Rosenkavalier" with its exuberant melodies has been called "Glorified beer hall music," Possibly because of its rustic waltz themes, but their orchestration and inventive handling of thematic material is far from naive, and it made a rousingly good finale for the concert.

Expelled Student Gives Scholarships For Music

A man who was expelled from San Rafael High School has become the latest "angel" for the school's music students.

The story was disclosed by Hugo Rinaldi, director of music in the San Rafael city schools, at the schools' 20th annual choral festival yesterday at Terra Linda High School.

The man — whom Rinaldi was careful not to name — was a student at the high school about 20 years ago. He was named "outstanding vocalist" and chosen for a leading role in the school's annual musical production.

But then, for what Rinaldi described only as "a series of infractions," he was expelled.

However, the unintentional dropout made good, in the musical world. And recently he wrote to Byron Jones, the high school's choral director, saying that he wished to express his appreciation for the training that started him in that direction. He would present two $100 scholarships to the best boy and girl vocalists at the school "every year as long as I am able to afford it," he wrote.

The first two were awarded yesterday — to Kathy Fox and Jim Beach.

Some 850 students, from fourth through 12th grades, participated in yesterday's two-hour program, giving a good demonstration of why the youth of 20 years ago received the impetus for a musical career in the city schools.

Included were the a cappella choirs of San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, the San Rafael High School orchestra, and the choirs of Davidson Junior High School, Santa Venetia Middle School, and Coleman, Bahia Vista, Gallinas, Glenwood, Hartzell, Laurel Dell Intermediate, MacPhail, San Pedro, Sun Valley and West End schools.

Rabbi Morton Hoffman narrated the finale, "One World," with musical background by the combined choirs and orchestra. School board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. spoke briefly about the music program. The two Joneses who head high school choirs — Byron and Lewis — arranged the program.

Bombing Threat At Apartment

A bomb threat at an apartment building at 406 Maple Street, Tamalpais Valley, arrived in a note in a milk box at the home of Kenneth L. Goodreau, Apt. 4, at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Sheriff's deputies and Tamalpais Fire Department crews checked the building and vehicles in the area, but found no bomb.

Goodreau reported to deputies that the note said, "There is a bomb on the building."

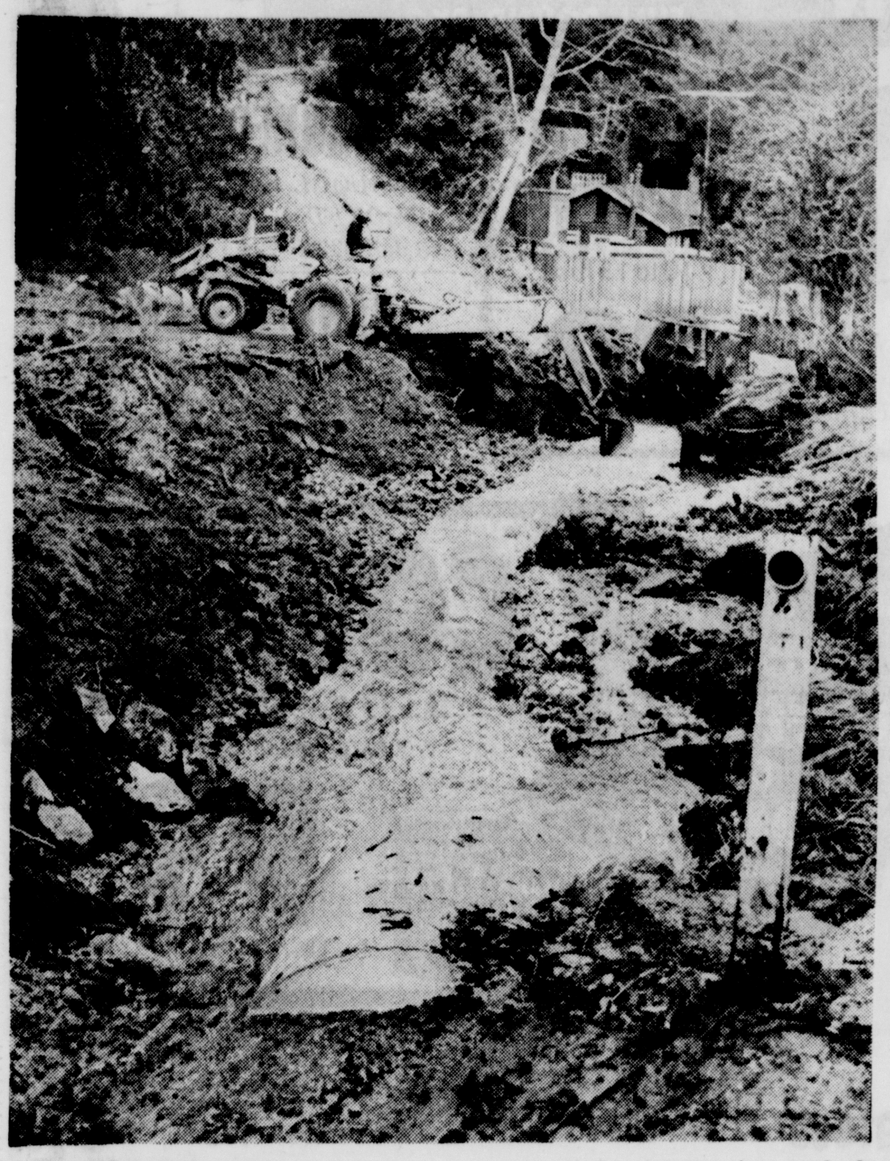
LOGJAM AT INVERNESS — The storm which lashed Marin County recently caused a washout a half mile above the D. B. Abelseth home in the Second Valley area of Inverness. These logs were tossed down the hill like twigs, in a rush of water, mud and other debris. (Photo by D. B. Abelseth)

AFTER INVERNESS STORM

A torrent of water rushed down a hill behind Aberdeen Way in the Second Valley area of Inverness, leaving a tangled path of mud, rocks, logs and other debris. A reminded of the washout, on the first weekend of the storm, was the yard of this summer cabin on Aberdeen Way. The tennis tables were stacked up to divert water from the cabin. (Independent-Journal photo)



STILL DIGGING OUT—This is the intersection of Aberdeen Way and Vision Road where residents will be "digging out until St. Patrick's Day," in the words of County Public Works Directors Donald R. Frost. During the first weekend of the storm, a portion of this intersection washed out and logs piled up. Back hoe operator Stan Koszhetz, part of a county road crew still working there Saturday, said two county trucks hauled debris for a full day to clear the intersection. (Independent-Journal photo)

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1967 17

Auto Dealer Takes Out Council Papers

A third potential candidate for San Rafael City Council appeared today as George S. Burton, a used-car dealer, took out papers for obtaining verification deputies to make the race.

Terms of Councilmen Charles W. Aby and Fred E. Jensen expire in April. Jensen has taken out verification papers to seek re-election. Papers have also been taken out by attorney Joseph D. Dahlman. Dr. Aby has not yet announced whether he will seek another term.

Actual filing opens Feb. 24 and ends March 10, with the election scheduled April 10.

Burton, who lives at 19 Hacienda Court and is sales manager of San Rafael Sales at 513 Francisco Boulevard, is a San Rafael native, 38 years old. He was graduated from College of Marin and attended San Francisco State College.

He said today he decided to enter the race for city council because he feels "there is much progression within the city, and I want to contribute." He said, "It is about time the council went to the people instead of the people going to the council."

Guilty Plea On Gun Count

Change of plea to guilty of possession of a revolver by a convicted felon was entered in Marin Superior Court today by Rowland Lavern Crowley, 36, of Olema.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced Crowley, also wanted for parole violation in Tuolumne County on a second degree burglary conviction, to state prison for six months to five years. He ordered the sentence to run concurrently with that Crowley was serving when paroled.

Crowley was arrested by sheriff's officers Nov. 6 in a car parked on Highway 101 near Santa Venetia. He had been scheduled for jury trial tomorrow.

Child-Beating Case Continued For Exam

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court today continuted sentencing of Eugene A. Boehm, 21, who pleaded guilty Jan. 3 to felony child-beating, until Feb. 20 for further psychiatric examination.

Judgment had been scheduled for today.

Judge Wilson also noted that Boehm, who had been free on $27,000 bail, has three traffic arrest warrants outstanding against him in other counties. He declared if Boehm is jailed, it should be in Marin County where the felony sentencing is pending. He therefore ordered Boehm held without bail pending the sentencing.

Boehm, a furniture finisher, pleaded guilty to the beating which resulted in death last Aug. 18 of Timothy Wayne Buckley, 16-month-old son of Bohem's common-law wife, Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley, at 70 Lucky Drive, Greenbrae.

A charge of murder was dismissed following the guilty plea to child -beating.

Budget On Agenda For Park Board

The recreation budget for next fiscal year will be taken up by the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The commission will also review the community house policies and the parks and recreation master plan.

Prison Situation Close To Normal

Operations at San Quentin Prison were close to normal today as all but 300 of the inmates comprising the normal work force were back at their jobs.

A total of 2,700 men were released this morning for work, the most since 1,000 convicts threatened racial war three weeks ago, according to Associate Warden James W. L Park.

He said the 300, believed to be principals in the Jan. 18 trouble, remain locked in their cells or in disciplinary units. Park said it would be "many weeks" before they were screened and permitted to return to work.

Restrictions on visits and classroom work also were being lifted as the prison moved closer to routine.

School Board May Study Boy's Hair

The long hair of a boy in the seventh grade at Red Hill School may receive the attention of San Anselmo School District trustees tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Red Hill School.

The item is not on the board's agenda, but Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said he understood the boy's parents might bring before the board their difference with Red Hill principal Donald Shaw over the proper length for the boy's hair.

Parodi will report on results of reading, mathematics and language tests given in October to third through eighth grade pupils.

The board may approve application for $5,750 in federal funds, to be matched by district funds, for social science teaching materials.

A screening committee to assist in hiring a curriculum coordinator may be appointed.

Pair Injured In Auto Collision

A driver and his passenger were seriously injured yesterday in a two-car crash on Highway 101, south of the Marin City off-ramp.

A southbound car driven by Dale Edward Land, 18 ,of Napa, skidded and rolled over, hitting one driven by Phillip Whitefield Noble, 36, of Sacramento at 12:10 a.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

Land was admitted to Marin General Hospital with concussion and multiple scrapes. His passenger, Douglas Smith, 18, of Napa, was admitted to the hospital with concussion and facial cuts. Both were in fair condition today.

Marinite Is Wounded In Domestic Fracas

A San Rafael insurance agent, pointing a derringer at his wife in her Fairfax home yesterday, was shot when she pushed the weapon at him and it discharged, police said.

A bullet struck Chester G. Law, 41, of 14 Warner Court, San Rafael, in the abdomen. Admitter to Marin General Hospital, he was in poor condition today.

Police said the shooting happened at 83 Cypress Drive, where Laws' wife, Frances, 40, has been living pending a divorce.

Laws went to the home about midnight, according to police, and an argument ensued. He brandished a .22-caliber derringer. Mrs. Laws told officer she pushed the weapon toward him and it went off.

Police hoped to question Laws today for his version of the shooting. Mrs. Laws was released after questioning.

Deer And Accident

Swerving to miss a deer on Lucas Valley Road Saturday about 11:30 p.m. caused Mildred Ingaboy Weiss, 52, of Lucas Valley Road, Nicasio, to overturn her car, cutting her forehead, California Highway Patrol reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Minor Injuries As Cars Collide

Two persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard north of Camino Del Mar, Inverness, at 9:45 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said a car driven by Stanley Richard Perry, 58, of San Francisco, hit the rear of one driven by Nancy Ann Lay of Tomales, which had slowed. Margaret Lehmann, 23, of Tomales, a passenger in the Lay car, complained of neck and leg pains. Rhoda Perry, 55, of San Francisco, a passenger in the Perry car complained of head pain. Both told officers they would see their own doctors.

Barbarous Finesses Astonish Old Kibitzer—But Do The Job

The Old Kibitzer tottered out of the card room of his club in a state of near-shock.

"They take all the wrong finesses," he muttered.

"The game has fallen into the hands of barbarians."

Opening lead — ♠ 2

The Old Kibitzer gulped when he saw East play the queen of spades at the first trick.

East returned the singleton club, which rode to dummy's ten.

HOPES FOR SOUTH

The old gentleman had expected South to win the club in his own hand in order to try the trump finesse. South would draw trumps and discard his losers on dummy's clubs.

He would never have to try the diamond finesse.

Instead, declarer won the club in dummy and returned a diamond to try a finesse with the queen.

This was when the Old Kibitzer ran from the room.

Oddly enough, all of the barbarous finesses were correct.

East "finessed" with the queen of spades at the first trick to see if his partner had the king.

When he found out, East could afford to return his singleton club.

COUNTERS DEFENSE

South could not afford to take the trump finesse against this defense.

Back would come a club, and East's ruff would defeat the contract.

Instead, South took the diamond finesse, cashed the ace of diamonds and led a trump to dummy's ace (refusing the only finesse that the Old Kibitzer would have taken). Then he led the jack of diamonds from dummy and discarded the ten of spades from his hand when East put up the king of diamonds.

This gave up a diamond instead of a spade, but it was more than an even exchange.

South's contract was safe.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner oepns with two spades (forcing to game), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 7 6 2
♥ 5
♦ 8 7 6 2
♣ 9 7 6 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2 no trump, the negative response.

You plan to show the spade support at your next turn, but you must first show that you have very little strength in high cards.

As The Crow Flies

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — A hunter near here aimed his rifle at a crow sitting on a high-voltage line but hit the power line instead of the bird, police reported recently. The area was without light for awhile.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Feb. 6, the 37th day of 1967 with 328 to follow.

The moon is approaching the new stage; the morning stars are Jupiter and Mars; the evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

British actor Sir Henry Irving was born on this day in 1838.

On this day in history:

In 1788, Massachusetts ratified the U.S. Constitution.

In 1850, U.S. statesman Henry Clay delivered his last great speech which he hoped would avert a civil war.

In 1943, General Dwight Eisenhower was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Allied Expedition Forces in North Africa.

In 1964, Cuba shut off the water supply at the U.S. Naval Base of Guantanamo.

A thought for the day—Henry Clay said: "If you wish to avoid foreign collision you had better abandon the ocean."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

60—Homes For Sale — Marin County

REAL ESTATE OWNERSHIP IS YOUR BEST HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION!

The dollars you invest in a home are a sound investment, because certain economists predict that real estate prices may be up as much as 20% by 1970. If inflationary trends continue, the value of your property will increase correspondingly. The demand for homes is expected to continue because of our rapid population growth. Many good buys are available to home buyers now. This is a GOOD time to buy.

REMEMBER: Multiple listing is the fastest way to find the home of your choice. Ask your realtor.

TELEVISIONREVIEW

A Tasteful View Of Picaso's Life

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —NBC-TV, honoring Pablo Picasso at 85, last evening presented a live one-hour broadcast between Europe and American, offering a video exhibition of his paintings and an auction of one of them.

The auction, occupying a brief part of the program near the end, and including bidders in New York, London, Los Angeles and Dallas-Fort Worth, resulted in a $105,000 sale, but was perhaps the least interesting part of the hour because only money was involved. From the layman's point of view, the immense pleasure generated by the broadcast, "Bravo Picasso!" came from the major portion of the program—a tracing of the artist's life through his paintings.

SALE BENEFITS

Nevertheless, there was a very practical benefit from the sale to the director of the Fort Worth Museum, for the money —as agreed by all parties beforehand—goes to a committee to salvage Italian art damaged in the recent deluge that was particularly felt by the city of Florence.

The producer of the program, which had the dual fascination of modern technical miracles combined with timeless art, was Lucy Jarvis, who video works can almost always be relief upon to open new visual experiences to viewers. Her past achievements include "The Louvre," "The Kremlin" and the crusading medical documentary "Who Shall Live"?

Miss Jarvis benefited from the lucid, anecdotal script of George Lefferts, and from the graciousness of the host, Yves Montand, who was seen in Paris and who is a friend of Picasso. The exhibitions focused upon were in Paris and Texas, and the analysts on hand were Aline Saarinen, in the French city, and Douglas Cooper, in Fort Worth. It seems safe to say that television thereby created the largest single exhibition of Picasso works ever.

LOVELY PORTION

Once the lovely portion of the show devoted to the artist's life and paintings was over, and the enticing accompanying music with it, the auction began, with millions of viewers watching around the nation. It was a pity that there was a slight attempt to build up the celebrity status of some of the mundanely important people involved as potential bidders, especially on a program devoted to a man whose accomplishments transcends those of the "celebrities." But television has, after all, a basically pro football mentality.

The Smothers Brothers, who failed a while back in a half-hour situation comedy series, last night began a weekly variety show of their own on CBS-TV, replacing the Garry Moore program and trying to put a dent in the ratings of their NBC-TV competitor, "Bonanza."

FAIRLLY STANDARD

The Smothers' debut hour was fairly standard stuff, with Jim (Gomer Pyle) Nabors, Ed Sullivan and Jill St. John as guests, and of course the boys are talented, especially brother Tom with his wild sense of fey, sputtering mockery. One wonders, however, whether they can hold a mass audience over a long haul with their basically wispy, gentle humor, which, as the old movie studio boys would say, lacks "sex appeal" and old-fashioned authority. Well, it is still worth tuning in for Tom's occasionally inspired comedic flights. Despite all that boyish fussiness, he is an exact, professional humorist.

Employees Of Schools Seat New Officers

Four Marin County chapters of the California School Employees Association last week held joint officer installation ceremonies at Reed School auditorium in Tiburon, conducted by Everett Cantrell of the San Rafael School District.

Antoinette Richtman was installed Reed District president, with Margaret MacCauley as vice president; Amy Inman, secretary; Ann Robinson, treasurer, and Sue Allan, recorder.

Golden Gate chapter, Sausalito School District, installed Louise Jadot as president; Edward Surles, vice-president; Ann Hospodar, secretary; Anna Purnell, treasurer; Irene Duro, recorder, and Richard Bettencourt, parliamentarian.

Mill Valley School District chapter installed Roy Knechtle as president, with Manual Silva, vice president; Patsy White, secretary, and Miriam Scotto, treasurer.

San Anselmo School District's new officers installed were Miguel Medeiros, president; Gerald Cruthers, vice president, and Dorothea Schultz, treasurer.

Youths Caught In Theft Act

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Victor Smith of Novato were awakened at 2:15 a.m. yesterday by the sound of breaking glass.

They went to the window of their apartment—No. 18 at 1001 Eighth Street. Below them, they saw two youths rifling the car of Robert Willey of Apt. 8.

Smith telephoned police while his wife watched the youths take stereo tapes and a black leather carrying case from the car.

Police arrived just as the thieves were finishing the job. The officers booked Ronald Walter Chadwick, 18, of 2 Buckeye Circle, Woodacre, and Charles Walter Fleigle, 19, of 68 Madrone Avenue, Woodacre, into county jail on burglary charges.

Two 16-year-old girls who were with the pair were reprimanded and released to their parents.

Nugents Drop Out Of School

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Two parttime students, Luci Johnson Nugent and her husband Patrick, are dropping out of the University of Texas.

Informed friends said the Nugents did not plan to be in their class seats when the new school term opened today.

Luci is expecting a baby in May and has decided to devote full time to preparing for motherhood, they said.

Nugent didn't have a minute to himself last semester, studying for his master's degree in business administration while working at KTBC-TV, the Johnson family television station in Austin.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

How National Education Assn. Tries To Bomb Assessment Plan

The powerful National Education Association, through one of its 29 departments, is out to sabotage the U.S. Office of Education's National Education Assessment program.

The program, to be launched next fall, is to include a series of tests in basic subjects to be given at selected schools, and to selected groups of adults, nationwide. The purpose is to assess where weaknesses exist in America's public education system. Results are to be tabulated, not by schools or by individuals, but by areas and by types of schools and communities. Heading the program is Ralph W. Tyler, director of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University.

THE NEA HAS BEEN leery of the idea all along. Last year, it published a booklet, "National Education Assessment, Pro and Con," which closed with a resolution by the American Association of School Administrators saying, in essence, that no national education assessment is needed.

Now the AASA has really taken the gloves off.

Its executive committee has urged its 18,000 members — school superintendents and their assistants, all — not to cooperate with the assessment program.

FORREST E. CONNER, AASA executive secretary, in a letter to every member declared the assessment program would be coercive.

"Every school in an area which ranks below the national average would find itself branded by the low performance of the sampling in that area," he wrote.

"No board of education or school staff in an area with an inferior school image would be able to withstand the heat which would be put on by the power structures, legislatures and parents."

FORESEEING THE possibility that, if the school superintendents ban the program from their schools, the U.S. Office of Education or the Ford and Carnegie Foundations (who are paying the bill) might try to give the tests in homes, Conner suggested:

"We are sure that you, your board, your PTA and your citizens' groups will know how to handle a situation of this kind."

Conner's letter makes it plain that the AASA (and therefore the NEA, of which it is a department) is out to block any national program that will show where the schools excel and where they fail — particularly the latter.

THE USE OF the American Association of School Administrators in this manner is typical of the operations of the NEA.

Conner is an NEA official, paid by the parent organization as are the executive secretaries of all of the 29 NEA departments.

Besides the AASA, these departments are:

American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education; American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation; American Association of School Librarians; American Driver and Traffic Safety Education Association; American Educational Research Association; American Industrial Arts Association, Inc.; Association for Higher Education; Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development; NEA Audio visual Lnstruction Department; NEA Classroom Teachers Department; Council for Exceptional Children; NEA Elementary - Kindergarten - Nursery Education Department; NEA Elementary School Principals Department; NEA Foreign Languages Department; NEA Home Economics Department; Journalism Education Association; Music Educators National Conference; National Art Education Association; National Association of Educational Secretaries; National Association for Public School Adult Education; National Association of Secondary School Principals; National Association of Women Deans and Counselors; National Business Educations Association; National Council for the Social Studies; National Council of Administrative Women in Education; National Council of Teachers of Mathematics; National Retired Teachers Association; NEA Rural Education Department; Speech Association of America and NEA Vocational Education Department.

THROUGH THEM, the NEA pretty well controls the public schools. As far as elementary and high schools and teachers' colleges go, with these departments and its state affiliates it virtually comprises the education establishment. By calling on various departments, NEA can present a picture of "widespread accord" to impress the public and influence legislators.

Although the Parent-Teacher Association is not an NEA affiliate, it appears from Conner's letter that he feels confident it, also, is under NEA control.

With such setup, no wonder it dares challenge the combined stature of the U.S. Office of Education and the Carnegie and Ford Foundations!

Secretary Is Stabbed To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An attractive San Francisco secretary was stabbed to death during the weekend in her small apartment while her 2-year-old son was asleep.

The body of Anita Hudson, 19 a divorcee, was found last night in a bedroom Her son, Charles, was asleep on a living room sofa.

Homicide Inspector Gus Coreris said Mrs. Hudson's throat was cut and her clothing, except for a silk blouse, was ripped from her body. A washcloth was stuffed in her mouth as a gag and there were signs of a desperate struggle in the bedroom.

The inspector and coroner's deputies theorized the young woman was killed sometime before Saturday night.

A friend, Willie Lee Beasley, 28, told officers he telephoned the apartment Saturday night about 9 p.m. He said Mrs. Hudson's son answered, saying "Mommie is asleep."

Beasley found the body when he went to the apartment the following night and discovered the door unlocked.

Traffic Snarl To Be Reviewed

Resident of Lagoon Road claim the prohibition of left-turn traffic from Tiburon Boulevard into the Cove and Lagoon roads intersection has increased traffic on their street. Their request for abandoning the restriction will be presented to Belvedere city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in Belvedere Community Hall.

The council will hear from representatives of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. on undergrounding utilities.

There will be further discussion of a sewer system maintenance contract with Tiburon Sanitary District. Replacement of a two-and-one-half-year old police car is also on the agenda.

Jobless Count Up In January

The San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment made 1,555 unemployment insurance benefit payments in January, as compared to 1,500 in December and 1,345 in January, 1966.

Office Manager Edwin W. Ayer said the increase over December was due to a halt in construction work because of rains. A general slump in construction was blamed for the increase over last January's figure.

Ayer reported 355 job placements last month, up four per cent from December but down 38 per cent from January, 1966. A shortage of openings for clerks and construction jobs was blamed for the drop.

Report Hits Some Unions

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Minority groups, especially Negroes and Orientals, still are hurt by discrimination in some trade unions, a staff report to the Assembly Industrial Relations Committee says.

Made public yesterday, the report declares "union power is still used to limit the supply of skilled workers."

It proposes that unions which are biased lose their bargaining certification, and that apprenticeship programs be integrated by legislative edict if needed.

Base Jobs Open

Applications for job examinations as molders, at starting salary of $3.49 per hour, at Mare Island, Vallejo, are available through J. J. McWhorter, civil service examiner, at the San Rafael Post Office.

Driverless Tow Truck Causes Auto Pile-Up

A driverless tow truck rolled backward into the path of northbound traffic on Highway 101 in Corte Madera at 4:40 p.m. Saturday, causing a four-vehicle smashup and injuries to five persons.

The pileup occurred about 50 yards south of the Greenbrae overcrossing after the truck had rolled into the flow of traffic from the east shoulder of the road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A car driven by Phillis M. Epping, 42, of Petaluma swerved from the middle lane in an attempt to avoid the tow truck and collided with a car in the fast lane driven by Marshall Axelrod, 43, of San Francisco, officers said.

In turn a car driven by Antonio Cardenas Garcia, 43, of Menlo Park, collided with the Epping car, officers said.

The tow truck, owned by Locke Brothers Garage, San Rafael, had been parked on the east shoulder of the northbound lanes by the driver, Alan Conroy, 19, of 212 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, who went to aid a motorist with a flat tire.

As Conroy got out of the truck his leg bumped the brake lever and partially disengaged it, the patrol reported. The truck started to roll.

Conroy told officers he didn't know that the truck had rolled away until he heard the squealing of brakes. The truck rolled about 150 feet before the series of crashes.

Axelrod, who suffered a bruised scalp, and his passenger, Carolyn Kolka, 29, of Oakland, who suffered a cut scalp, were treated at Marin General Hospital. Mrs. Epping, who suffered neck pains and a bruised forehead, and Servando Garcia, 12, and Jesus Vasque, 56, both of Menlo Park, passengers in the Garcia car, who complained of pains, told officers they would be treated by their own doctors.

It costs taxpayers more than $500 million a year to clean up the mess left by litterbugs.

Hung Jury In Bribery Trial

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — A date for the second bribery-conspiracy trial of Sheriff's Captain Alvin Prara and former San Francisco police inspector Joseph Farrell will be set Friday.

Their first trial, which began Jan. 23, ended Saturday when the jury reported itself deadlocked.

The two men are accused of accepting bribes from bookies in return for supplying advance information about police raids.

Clay, Terrell Fight Tonight For Heavyweight Title

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay calls Ernie Terrell "a one-armed bandit." Terrell calls Clay "an incomplete fighter." They both may be right, but tonight they will battle for the undisputed heavyweight championship of the world and the millions that often go with boxing's richest prize.

Clay, 25, undefeated and generally regarded as the world champion, is a 4-1 favorite over a 27-year-old foe who has won 15 straight fights and is recognized as the titleholder by the World Boxing Association.

"I'm going to punish him," says Clay. "He's going to receive a Floyd Patterson humiliation beating."

The 6-foot-3 Clay gave Patterson a torturous whipping before the referee stopped that slaughter in the 12th round of their title bout Nov. 22, 1965.

"He doesn't bug me like he has some of the others he's whipped," said the 6-foot-6 Terrell. "His mouth isn't going to help him against me. I know I can beat him. I'm going to knock him out. And the beauty of it is that I'm going to get paid for it."

Clay will collect about $750,000 and Terrell will earn upwards of $250,000 for this long awaited fight.

A crowd of 35,000 may pay about $400,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $100 for Clay's eighth title defense and sixt hwithin 11 months. The site is the magnificent Astrodome which can seat 60,000 for a fight.

The big money, however, will come from closed circuit telecasts to arenas and theaters in the United States and Canada, the live hookup by the communication satellites to England and Japan, radio, and the delayed tape telecasts in 24 other countries.

It will be the first event to be beamed simultaneously to both Europe and Asia by the satellites.

The telecast will be beamed to 165 locations in 130 cities in the United States, to 13 cities in Canada, and over 69 community antenna systems.

Clay will collect 50 per cent of all receipts. Terrell will receive 20 per cent of the Astrodome gate and 17½ per cent of the ancillary rights.

The fight will start about 7:30 p.m., PST.

Clay, a pro since October, 1960, has racked up a 27-0 record including 22 knockouts. He won the title on a seventh round technical knockout of Sonny Liston on Feb. 25, 1964 and has beaten Liston (1), Patterson (12), George Chuvalo (15), Henry Cooper (5), Brian London (3), Karl Mildenberger (12) and Cleveland Williams (3), in title defenses.

The third round knockout of the once-feared Williams was performed in the same Astrodome last Nov. 14 before a record indoor fight crowd of 35,460 that paid $461,290.

Terrell, a pro since 1957, has a 39-4 record including 18 knockouts. He has been stopped once, by Williams in the seventh round on April 3, 1962 in Houston.

Williams at the time was rated the hardest hitter in the heavyweight division.

Terrell, who relies on a piston-like left jab, avenged that defeat by outpointing the Big Cat a year later in Philadelphia.

Since the loss to Williams, Terrell has bowled over 15 straight opponents including Amos Lincoln, Zora Folley, Eddie Machen, Chuvalo, and Doug Jones. Machen, Chuvalo and Jones, the last one on June 28, were beaten on 15 round decisions in WBA title fights.

The victory over Machen earned Terrell the WBA's recognition as world champion. The WBA had stripped Clay of the title for signing for a return bout with Liston in the face of a warning from the boxing body against doing so.

Mays Telephoned Franks After Reading His Boss' Prediction

Willie Mays shook his head when he read the dispatch from Salt Lake City. It quoted Herman Franks in a hot stove league prediction that Willie, now with a career total of 542 homers, will crack Babe Ruth's all-time mark of 714 by averaging 37 homers for the next five years.

HANLEY

MAYS PICKED up the telephone and called the manager of the Giants at his Salt Lake City home. "Homan," said Willie using his pet name for Franks, "I thought you were my friend and now I read where you put me on the spot for five years."

There was chuckling on the other end of the phone and Willie interrupted it. "Homan," he said, "it's easy for you to predict I'll do it but doing it is something else."

THE BANTERING continued for several minutes with Willie feigning displeasure over Franks' public pronouncement of a private conviction that the manager of the Giants had held all along.

Franks wouldn't publicly express his belief last season because it would only have put additional pressure on Mays as the great centerfielder was pulling into the No. 2 slot behind Ruth by passing first Mel Ott (511), then Ted William (521) and finally Jimmy Foxx (534).

BUT THROUGHOUT the 1966 campaign Franks, whenever Willie was within earshot and Ruth's record was being discussed, would say: "I know a fellow who is going to crack that record." Willie would shake his head.

"I'm sure glad it's all over," said Mays after hitting No. 535 which put him ahead of Foxx, "Now that I've passed all those guys maybe everyone will leave me alone and forget about my homers."

OF COURSE, NOBODY is going to forget Mays' homers and there will be constant speculation about his chances of catching Ruth.

"You almost have to bet at my age that I don't catch him," said Willie. "Like I've been saying right along I don't think I can do it. Anyway that's so far ahead that I don't even want to think about it."

MAYS WILL BE 36 May 6 and this will be his 16th major league campaign. Franks, in making his prediction, said he was mindful of Willie's age but didn't have a doubt Willie still would be hitting home runs at the age of 40 in 1971.

"I've never known any athlete to take the superb care of his body that Willie has," said Franks. "Ten years ago he weighed 188. He still weighs 188 today and has the hips of a teen-ager.

"SURE, HE IS older and wiser but he always was smart when it came to physical discipline, particularly proper eating habits. He not only has five more good years ahead of him in baseball but I think when he is 40 in 1971 he will hit his age in homers."

Marin Prep Cage Teams Resume Action Tomorrow

The top four basketball teams in the Marin County Athletic League are almost carefully avoiding each other this week, at least according to the schedule.

Only Redwood and San Rafael, tied for third with 4-3 records will lock horns at Redwood Friday to decide who moves up a notch.

Tam and Drake now running a hair's breath apart after the Indians' upset at the hands of San Rafael last week, take on second division teams.

Tomorrow finds Tamalpais taking a day off, sort of, by traveling to Vallejo for a non-league tilt. Drake may have a tough time in the unfriendly confines of the Terra Linda gym while Redwood seeks out last-place and winless Novato at Novato and San Rafael takes on Marin Catholic in Kentfield.

All games tomorrow afternoon are at 4.

In addition to the Redwood-San Rafael game Friday, Tamalpais hosts Marin Catholic, Drake welcomes Novato and Terra Linda is at Salesian for a non-league encounter.

Ferrari Back On Top After 1-2-3 Sweep At Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ferrari, dethroned as king of road racing in 1966, is back on top.

Stung by Ford victories at Daytona and LeMans a year ago, Enzo Ferrari brought a carefully prepared set of new 12-cylinder models to Daytona International Speedway, and the brilliant Red Ferraris crossed the finish line first, second and third in the 24-hour Daytona Continental yesterday.

Lorenzo Bandini of Italy and Chris Amon of New Zealand were first, and Mike Parkes of England and Ludovico Scarfiotti of Italy were three laps — 11 miles — back in the sister car.

The third Ferrari, a rebuilt 1966 model nearly matching the new ones, was 110 miles behind. Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico and Jean Guichet of France lost ground with mechanical trouble in the closing hours. But everyone else had trouble too, and they held third place.

The fourth place Porsche 6, driven by Hans Hermann of Germany and Jo Siffert of Switzerland was 183 miles back of the winner.

Ford was buried behind a string of broken transmissions that plagued all but one of its six Mark II starters .The lone Ford factory car to avoid the transmission plague had overheating troubles and visited the pits for water every 15 laps around the 3.81-mile course.

When the checkered flag waved, the Mark II of Bruce McLaren of England and Lucien Bianchi of Belgium was in seventh place a distant 278 miles behind.

Amon, who was fifth last year in an earlier version of the Ford Mark II, made a comparison.

Of his 1966 Ford ride, he said: "It's rather like driving a truck compared to a car."

The Mark II weighed about 900 pounds more than the Ferrari.

The 1-2 factory Ferraris were as free of trouble as a car could be in a 24-hour race.

"We had no problems; nothing that would put us out of the running," Amon said. "The major task of pit crews was fueling and changing tires."

With three Ferraris and two Porsches taking the first five places American machinery suffered a setback after two years of victory in endurance classics here and at Sebring, Fla.

The unique Chaparrals, built by Jim Hall of Midland, Tex., made an early splash. Phil Hill of Santa Monica, but the winged 2F model out front on the first lap and stayed there for 91 laps. Then he hit a retaining wall, damaging the suspension so badly the Chaparral retired.

One or the other of the two factory Ferraris led all the remaining 575 laps.

There were several minor accidents in addition to the one that eliminated Chaparral. In the most spectacular, Saturday night, Walter Habegger of Switzerland leaped from his Porsche Carrera just before it burst into flames. Carlos Salas, whose Ferrari GTB collided with Habegger's car, was unhurt. Habegger was cut on the face.

Behind the first four finishers in order came a Porsche 906 driven by Dieter Spoerry and Rico Steinemann of Switzerland; a Ford GT40 driven by Richard Thompson of Alexandria, Va., and Jackie Ickx of Belgium; the Ford Mark II of McLaren and Bianchi; a Ford GT40 driven by William Wonder of Glen Cove, N.Y., and Reymond Caldwell of Marblehead, Mass; a Porsche 911 driven by John Ryan of Griffin, Ga., and Bill Bencker of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Porsche 911 driven by Harold Williamson of Tampa, Fla., and George Drolsom of Jacksonville, Fla.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The top finishes of the 24-hour Daytona Continental with make of car, drivers, laps completed and money won:

1. Ferrari P4, Chris Amon, New Zealand and Lorenzeo Bandini, Italy, 666 laps, $17,100.
2. Ferrari P4, Ludovico Scarfiotti, Italy and Mike Parkes, England, 663 laps, $7,350.
3. Ferrari P4, Pedro Rodriguez, Mexico and Jean Guichet, France, 637 laps, $3,900.
4. Porsche 6, Hans Hermann, Germany and Jo Siffert, Switzerland, 618 laps, $1,050.
5. Porsche 906, Dieter Spoerry, Switzerland and Rico Steinemann, Switzerland, 608 laps, $1,050.
6. Ford GT 40, Dick Thompson, Alexandria, Va., and Jackie Ickx, Belgium, 601 laps, $650.
7. Ford Mark II, Bruce McLaren, Egnaid, and Lucien Bianchi, Belgium, 593 laps, $450.
8. Ford GT 40, William Wonder, Glen Cove, N.Y., and Raymond Caldwell, Marblehead, Mass., 572 laps, $400.
9. Porsche 911, George Droisom, Jacksonville, Fla., and Harold Williamson, Tampa, Fla., 542 laps, $300.

Six In Cup Play

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Only six nations have entered this year in the American Zone of the Davis Cup tennis competition. They are the United States, British Caribbean, New Zealand, Mexico, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Birdie On 18th Does It

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — It was something out of the book of golfing miracles, the stunning upset victory of Tom Nieporte over Doug Sanders in the $110,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

It was a triumph for a 37-year-old teaching professional who seldom plays the money tournaments and never was famous during the five years he journeyed over the nation on the PGA tour. His PGA winnings last year were $890.

But this likeable, good-looking father of seven, with an eighth expected at his winter home in Boca Raton, Fla., came through under pressure to win an admittedly welcome $17,600.

He broke a tie with Sanders on the 18th green with a 12-foot putt for a birdie, a final round 69 and a 90-hole score of 349, 11 strokes under par.

The resplendent Sanders, playing behind the 6-foot-1, 185-pound Nieporte, had two holes to catch up.

Doug, seeking his second Classic win in a row here, came close on two long putts for birdies but couldn't get them.

The tournament concluded the winter swing through California. The $70,000 Phoenix Open in Arizona follows this weekend. But Nieporte left today for home and then three tournaments in the Caribbean.

Such gallery favorites as Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer faded from attention as the final round went down to the wire between Sanders and Nieporte.

Nicklaus's 72 gave him 355, Casper had a 71 for 356 and Palmer dropped out of sight with 73 for 362.

Chi Chi Rodriguez finished third at 354 and tied with Nicklaus were Paul Harney, Bert Yancey and George Archer.

The 356 group included Bob Charles, Dale Douglass and Casper.

Sanders had a one-stroke lead over Nieporte as play began at the par - 72 La Quinta Country Club, with an estimated 30,000 fans swarming over the place.

Doug was still a stroke ahead after nine, but Nieporte's 25-foot putt on the 11th tied matters and Tom went ahead when Sanders bogied No. 12. Sanders again pulled even on No. 15 when Nieporte's tee shot hit a spectator and he took a bogey.

Nieporte had a 76, 10 behind the leader in the first round. But he followed with 68-68-68 and then his 69 won it all. A former Ohio State University golf star, Nieporte won only two PGA

Close Shot Foils Seals Again, 3-2

OAKLAND (AP) — Larry Popein scored from directly in front of the goal yesterday just 89 seconds before the end of the sudden-death overtime period, boosting Vancouver past the California Seals 3-2 in a Western Hockey League game.

The Seals had tied the score with two third-period goals in an effort to gain their first victory in their last eight games. Instead, they took their fourth straight loss.

After a scoreless first period, the second - place Canucks moved out in front on goals by Gordon Vejprava and Barry Watson in the middle period.

But Mo Mantha narrowed it to 2-1 with a 55-foot slap shot early in the third period and Wayne Maxner's goal sent the contest into overtime with 15 minutes left in regulation time.

Santa Rosa Quint Beats Marin Tars

NAPA — The spinning wheel in the College of Marin basketball weave has busted.

The Tars of Marin ran into another frigid night, and a near air-tight zone defense that cut off their trio of fine guards and fell before Santa Rosa, 69-64, for their second straight Eastern Division loss in the Golden Valley Conference here Saturday.

Cellar-dweller College of the Redwoods manhandled the Tars at Kentfield Friday, 80-72.

The victory brought resurging Santa Rosa to within one game of the Tars in the suddenly tight Eastern Conference. Marin is now 7-3 and Santa Rosa moved up to 6-4.

Redwoods knocked off Napa Saturday, thereby assuring College of Marin of at least a berth in the Golden Valley tournament featuring the top two teams in each division.

Santa Rosa threw up an effective zone against the Tars and roamed through the Marin press in cutting down the Tars.

The Tar trio of usually hot hands consisting of Russ Smith, Bill Pandiani and Bob Phillips showed for a combined total of 25 points while forward Terry Overlid managed nearly as much by himself as he canned seven fielders and 10 of 14 free throws for 24 points. He also had 10 rebounds.

Tom Stetson added 10 points for Marin.

Bruce McNeely, a hot guard who had been stymied by Phillips in the two teams earlier meeting, threw in 27 points for Santa Rosa.

The Tars held an early 15-8 lead but came down with a cold that lasted for most of the first half and left them trailing at 20-28. They got to within three late in the game but that was all.

Warriors Nip Chicago Bulls In Overtime

CHICAGO (AP)— Nate Thurmond's health problems have shifted about two yards higher, leaving the San Francisco Warriors a little happier that he does other things besides sing for his supper.

Thurmond, playing once again with aching tonsils, tipped in the winning basket last night with four seconds left in overtime, as San Francisco whipped Chicago 142-141.

The 6-foot-11 Thurmond lost considerable playing time last season because of an aching back traced to the fact that one leg was half an inch shorter than the other. Now he wears a special lift in his basketball shoe.

His tonsils began bothering him last Thursday night and kept him from playing Friday in Los Angeles. He returned Saturday in Oakland as Philadelphia won 140-127.

All of him — from tonsils to toenails — gets a rest tonight before the Warriors move into Pittsburgh, Pa., for another shot at Philadelphia.

Thurmond's tip-in in Chicago followed a missed 35-foot shot by Rick Barry. The ball hit the rim, bounced off Chicagoan Jerry Sloan's hands to Thurmond who slapped it home for the winning basket. That allowed the Warriors to move 9½ games ahead of second-place St. Louis in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

San Francisco blew a 122-116 lead two minutes from the end of regulation play and Chicago moved into a 127-127 tie.

Bob Boozer, who led Chicago with 32 points, scored his sixth and seventh points of the overtime period on a pair of free throws with 81 seconds left giving the Bulls the lead at 141-140.

Barry also scored seven points in the overtime and finished with game high of 48. Thurmond had 20. Paul Neumann collected 24 before fouling out.

Top Three WHL Teams Triumph

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rankings remained the same in the Western Hockey League yesterday as the top three teams all won. First-place Portland beat Victoria 5-3, second-place Vancouver edged California 3-2 in overtime and third-place Seattle sped by Los Angeles 5-2.

Portland had to come back in the third period on goals by Bill Saunders, Alain Caron and Len Lunde. Saunders' dribbler tied the game and Caron put the Blades ahead for good on a power play.

Saunders scored Portland's first goal in the opening period and Connie Madigan had the other counter for the winners. Mike Labadie scored the first goal for Victoria, Bob Barlow added another for the visitors and Milan Marcetta put Victoria ahead for a time in the second.

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — John Wurster of Ballston Spa edged out Bill Lanigan yesterday for first place in the senior men's division of the U.S. Open Speed Skating Championships, and Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid took victories in all five races to win the senior women's division.

UCLA Gets Scare From USC Quint

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The No. 1 ranked UCLA Bruins, leaders of the Pacific-8 Conference, have the speed, the fast break and the height to dominate the national basketball picture, but there are weapons to use against them.

The Bruins are expected to continue their string of victories this weekend against Oregon State and Oregon, but they saw the streak nearly snapped Saturday night by Southern California.

The Uclans started out with a typically fast attack against USC and piled up a 7-2 lead. The Trojans called a time out at which they decided to use the slow ball, the slow break and the sure shot. UCLA needed an overtime period to win 40-35.

In this weekend's schedule, UCLA meets Oregon State Friday and Oregon Saturday. USC meets Oregon and then Oregon State. California is at Washington Saturday and Stanford is at Washington State.

California, Stanford, Washington, Washington State, and Oregon won nonconference games Saturday. Oregon State lost 57-56 to Idaho. Cal whipped Denver 73-68, Stanford downed Air Force 80-65 on regional television, Oregon clubbed rival Portland 67-56, Washington thumped Montana 95-79 for a second season win over the Grizzlies and Washington State edged Gonzaga 69-64.

Amazingly the Trojans found their slow ball tactics effective against UCLA and led 17-14 at halftime. With 2:19 left in the game, the Bruins' Lucius Allen tied the score at 31-31.

Again the Trojans stalled until with one second left, Bill Hewitt took a 30-foot jump shot for USC and the ball circled the rim and fell out, sending the game into overtime.

Substitute forward Bill Sweek broke up two Trojan passes and gave UCLA ball control in the extra frame. Lew Alcindor was contained by a two-man defense, but hit 13 points for the Bruins. Steve Jennings who scored 11 points and controlled USC's stall was the offensive leader for the Trojans.

Dave Schlotthauer scored both ends of a one and one foul combination with 15 seconds to play and gave Idaho its one-point winning margin over Oregon State.

California's Russ Critchfield scored eight of his 23 points in the last five minutes of the game against Denver and led the Bears to victory. Harry Hollines, the nation's seventh highest scorer, led both teams, scoring 26 points for Denver.

Sophomore Don Griffin with 21 points headed the Stanford surge that brought the Indians from a 10-point deficit to their winning margin over Air Force. Cliff Parsons of the Air Force finished with the game high of 26.

Nick Jones scored 24 points and spearheaded the Oregon victory over independent Portland, which went without a field goal the last nine minutes of the first half. Paul Gloden was Portland's high scorer with 17 points.

Washington's Huskies repeated last week's victory over Montana, this time with a 17-point performance by Dave Hovde. Montana's top scorers were Sid Hudon and Denny Biletnikoff, each with 16.

Washington State used a pressure defense against Gonzaga which checked the Bulldog center Gary Lechman. But Lechman ended with high point honors, 18 for Gonzaga.

Stocking Of New Orleans Team On Tap

NEW YORK (AP) — The New Orleans Saints, the newest of the National Football League's 16 teams, will be stocked this week with 42 veteran players from other teams, it was announced today.

The Saints will be permitted to pick three veteran players from the other NFL clubs with the exception of Atlanta's year-old Falcons. The stocking procedure for the New Orleans club will be identical with the plan used to stock the Atlanta entry.

Each existing NFL club will be able to freeze 29 players on its 40-man roster. New Orleans then will select one player from the 11 remaining. Each existing team then will freeze two more players and the Saints will make their last two selections from the remaining eight players.

The Saints actually will be handed the lists of veteran players sometime Thursday and Coach Tom Fears and Vic Schwenk, the Saints' player personnel director, will spend the night studying them before announcing their selections Friday.

No Marichal Mail; S.F. Not Worried

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Each mail delivery these days brings additional signed contracts to the San Francisco Giants office but the big one—Juan Marichal's—is still among the missing.

The Giants say they aren't the "least bit worried" and there is no word at all from the star righthander who won 25 games for San Francisco a year ago. Marichal is resting at his home in the Dominican Republic and about the only thing he has let leak out winter long is a vow that he will stay unsigned unless he gets $100,000.

The Giants, as is their custom, refuse to say how much they have offered Juan, who has won 20 or more games now four years running, but it's safe to assume, said one official, that he "got a raise." Marihcal held out until two weeks before the statr of the 1966 season beore agreeing to a $75,000 pact.

Meanwhile, during the weekend, the Giants signed Norm Siebern, the veteran first baseman-otfielder they picked up from the California Angeles during the off-season, and reserve catcher Bob Barton.

Seibern, who is expected to give the Giants much-needed lefthanded pinch-hitting help in addition to an occasional turn at first and the outfield, had a .275 overall batting average in 10 American League seasons. He is 33 years of age.

The 25-year-old Barton has a fine throwing arm but hit only .176 with the Giants last year before and after stints with the Phoenix farm club where he was a .296 hitter.

With Dick Bertell out on loan to the Chicago Cubs and more than likely finished with the Giants even if the Cubs return him, Barton moves up this year as the No. 2 catcher behind Tom Haller.

The signing of Siebern and Barton gives the Giants 28 under contract for 1967 with 13 to go, counting Marichal.

Grid Coach Bobby Dodd Retires

ATLANTA (AP) — Bobby Dodd retired as football coach at Georgia Tech today after a successful 22-year campaign in which the Yellow Jackets won 165 games and went to 13 bowls.

The 58-year-old coach will remain as athletic director of the school where he has spent his entire coaching career. No replacement as coach was named immediately.

Reports of Dodd's decision to quit as coach were broadcast in Atlanta and published by the Atlanta Journal. Official confirmation was expected shortly from Georgia Tech sources, who privately confirmed the reports.

Dodd's retirement as coach came as somewhat of a surprise, although there were reports already last fall that the 1966 season would be his last.

The tall, slender head man of the Yellow Jackets has been in poor health in recent months, and missed numerous practices last fall because of illness.

Dodd's decision to step down as coach will bring on only the fourth head football coach in Georgia Tech history. John W. Heisman served from 1904 through 1919, William A. Alexander held the job from 1920 through 1944, and Dodd has been the boss since 1945.

Dodd, a college standout of Tennessee, closed out his coaching career with one of his finest teams last fall. The Yellow Jackets won their first nine games before bowing to Georgia and then losing to Florida in the Orange Bowl.

That left Dodd with a career coaching mark of 165 victories, 64 losses and 8 ties.

Italian Pair Lead In Bobsled Championship

ALPE D'HUEZ, France (AP) — Driver Eugenio Monti and his brakeman, Sergio Siorpaes, the defending champions from Italy, won the first run of the two-man world's bobsled championship today as American hopes were dealt a severe blow.

The second and final run down the 1,000-meter Col de Poutran ice chute was postponed until tomorrow because large sections of the ice coating on the chute gave way, causing a safety hazzard to the 22 sleds from 11 nations.

Before the competition began, Stan Beham of Missoula, Monta., a three-time world champion who is acting as an advisor to the American team, expressed high hope for the U.S. No. 1 sled driven by Robert Said, a real estate developer from Waccabuc, N.Y.

"Said is an excellent driver and he can pull a big surprise," Benham said. "His sled is brand new and works like a clock."

However, Said finished 14th in 1 minute, 96-100 seconds, far off Monti's 58.43.

The U.S. No. 2 bob, piloted by Howard Clifton, an Elnora, N.Y., businessman, was eighth in 59.29.

Said's brakeman is Philip Dupre of Raybrook, N.Y. In Sunday's final practice run the duo turned in the third fastest time. James Crall of Troy, N.Y., rides with Clifton.

The United States hasn't taken the title since the 1936 Winter Olympics at Garmisch, Germany.

Second place on the first run went to Austrian champions Erwin Thaler and Reinhold Durnthaler in 58.61. Wolfgang Zimmerer and Hubert Braun of West Germany were fourth in 58.59, and Max Kaltenberger and Hans Ritzl of Austria were fourth in 58.72.

The start was marred by two minor accidents, both involving French bobs.

Jean-Claude Gallienne and Guy Jacob, on France No. 1 sled, turned over in the Chartreuse curve, one of the seven bends of the course. Both bobbers were unhurt but eliminated from the race.

A few minutes later, the second French crew of Pierre Galienne and Guy Jourde completed the descent, but the brakeman injured his left arm. Jourde said he hit his elbow several times against the ice walls of the track and feared he might not be able to compete in tomorrow's final heat.

Monti, a 40-year-old skilift operator from Cortina d'Ampezzo, was grinning happily after his run.

"The course was exceedingly bumpy, and I feared I was losing precious time by banging against the walls. Everything went well instead," he added.

Monti has won nine world bobsledding titles, a record so far unsurpassed.

Said, who was sixth in the order of start, said before his run, "I am satisfied, but everything depends on Duprey giving me a good push at the start."

tournaments after turning pro, the Rubber City Open in 1959 and the Azalea Open in 1960. His full-time summer job is at the Piping Rock Country Club on Long Island.

"I had hoped to win enough to paint our house, but now we can paint it and also add a bedroom," Nieporte observed happily.

Nieporte's trip to California was, in a sense, accidental. He had not planned to come out this year, but when an amateur member of his club, Dick Remsen, in Piping Rock called and said he had been invited to the Crosby tournament on the Monterey Peninsula, Nieporte agreed to meet him at Pebble Beach. The two did all right in the Crosby.

Nieporte figured since he was already in California that he'd try the Los Angeles Open. There, he finished well enough to win $1,750, so he came to the Hope tourney.

Clay, Terrell Meet In Title Go Tonight

For the first time, Clay is facing an opponent who will have both a height and reach, 82 to 79, advantage over him.

"This is going to be a lot different for him," said Terrell.

"He has won because of his jab and his great condition. But I've got a better jab than he has and I'm in the best condition of my life. And for those who say I haven't got a right, they will get a chance to find out otherwise.

"I maintain that Clay is an incomplete fighter. He doesn't know how to fight inside and if he can't call the tune he's in trouble. I intend to control the fight."

"He's a one-armed bandit," said Clay. "All he can use is that left jab of his and hold. I can beat that left of his by shooting over my right because I'm the fastest puncher there is. When I do that, he will be finished. But I'm going to punish him because he talks too much. That's my game."

The war of words may be better than the fight. Both are counter-pounchers who prefer an opponent to lead to them. If they both wait for the other to lead, it could be a dreary spectacle.

"Those guys wouldn't lead in a gold rush," snorted Willie Ketchum, a veteran fight manager.

If Terrell is as confident as he sounds, this could be a close fight and could go the limit. Big Ernie has shown a tendency to tire and cut in his long fights. No one knows how Clay will react if his pretty face gets cut or bruised.

The scoring will be on the 10-point must system. The winner of a round will get 10 points, the loser nine or less. Scoring will be done by a referee and two judges to be named at fight time.

Lindgren Getting Close To Indoor Two-Mile Mark

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Neil Steinhauer is off the mark with his shot putting and Bob Seagren hasn't set a pole vault record in more than a week now, but little Gerry Lindgren might be ready for his turn at the indoor track record book.

Lindgren whizzed to a two-mile victory in 8:31.6 at the Seattle Invitational Saturday night, that clocking is dangerously close to Ron Clarke's indoor two-mile record of 8:28.8, and by far the best time of the season.

"Not bad," said the Washington State student who is scheduled for another chance at the record this Friday in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in New York.

Lindgren handily beat Bill Baillie of New Zealand, whose 8:37.7 clocking would have been more impressive under other circumstances.

Steinhauer, meanwhile, finally got his long-awaited rematch with Randy Matson in the indoor shotput, but this time the script was different.

Matson of Texas A&M came up with a heave of 66-10¼ inches on his final throw, at San Diego, giving him the victory over Steinhauer of the University of Oregon, who a month ago dealt Matson his first defeat in the event since the 1964 Olympics. Steinhauer had a best toss of 66-2¼.

Since that meeting, Steinhauer raised the indoor record to 67-10, and Matson has complained that throwing the indoor shot isn't his style and he'll have no more of it.

And Seagren, who raised the indoor pole vault mark to 17-2 two weeks ago, didn't even win the event in San Diego. Both he and Chris Papanicalaou of Greece, now attending San Jose State, cleared 16-6, but Papanicalaou won with fewer misses. Both of them missed at 17-2½.

The only indoor record broken over the weekend was the American 1,000-yard standard, which fell to Tom Von Ruden of the Long Beach Track Club in 2:06.8. That clocking in the San Diego meet, was a second better than Ted Nelson's previous U.S. record, but eight-tenths of a second off Peter Snell's world mark.

At the Philadelphia Inquirer meet, Kerry O'Brien wound up his fine American tour with his third straight meet record in the two-mile, winning in 8:46.6. In the previous 10 days, O'Brien, who started back home to Australia yesterday, had set meet records in Boston and New York.

A prospective duel between Dave Patrick, NCAA mile champion from Villanova, and Noel Carroll of Ireland and formerly a Villanova student, never came off at the Philadelphia meet as Patrick led all the way, winning in 2:09.2. Carroll finished last.

Other top victories at Seattle went to Harry Jerome of Vancouver, B.C., who won the 50-yard dash in 6.1 and to Darrell Horn of the San Francisco Athens Club, winner of the long jump at 25-.3

Doris Brown of Seatle set a women's record in the 880, winning in 2:08.5. The old mark was set just a week earlier by Francine Kraker of the Michigammers at 2:09.7.

San Diego victories went to veteran Jim Grelle in the mile at 4:08.4, Lee Evans of San Jose State in the 600 at 1:12.1, Otis Burrell in the high jump at 7 feet and Ralph Boston with a 25-10 long jump.

Norwegian Ace Cracks Ski Jumping Record

LEAVENWORTH, Wash. (AP) —Norway's Bjorn Wirkola sped down a run covered with imported, hand-packed snow, shot off the end of the Leavenworth jump yesterday and landed 335 feet away—breaking the North American ski jumping record by 10 feet.

The world champion had stated at mid-week that it was possible to go some 333 feet on the hill and his record jump proved him right with a additional two feet. He bettered the leap of 325 feet by John Balsanz at Iron Mountain, Mich., in 1965.

There had been doubt that the international meet would even be held yesterday. The national competition had to be postponed Saturday after warm air kept melting snow off the run as fast as it could be covered. But tons of snow were trucked in and packed down for the combined meet and the surface proved ideal for Wirkola's assault, alside of the jump.

Four judges gave Wirkola 19.5 and the other 19, out of a possible 20, for his record leap. That combined with his first jump of 305 feet, brought him 235.6 points and the international championship.

Wirkola's Norwegian teammate, Chris Selbekk, exctied the crowd of some 6,000 when he went 317 feet on his first jump. His second jump of 300 feet dropped him to third, with 220.5 points, behind Japan's stylist, Takashi Fujisawa, who had jumps of 308 and 303 feet for 221.3 points.

Fourth place went to Gene Kotlarek, Duluth, Minn., and this brought him the National championship. He scored 216.7 points on leaps of 302 and 303 feet.

John Balsanz registered 214.6 points with jumps of 299 and 300 feet. Jay Martin, Minneapolis, went out 303 and 302 feet, but got only 206.7 points because his hand dragged on one jump.

The national junio r A title went to Gary Sparpana, Iron Mountain, Mich., on his jumps of 277 and 274 feet for 178 points. Leonard Johnson of Minneapolis won the veterans crown with two jumps of 225 feet for 155.2 points.

Atlanta Club Honors Alston, Mays, Regan

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves 400 club has honored Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers as Manager of the Year and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants as the Baseball Player of the Century.

Mays, No. 2 home run hitter of all time, was unable to attend the Sunday night banquet due to illness. His trophy was accepted by National League President Warren Giles.

The Combeback of the Year Award went to Los Angeles relief pitcher Phil Regan, who had a 14-1 record in 1966. Atlanta infielder Woody Woodward, who hiked his batting average from .208 in 1965 to .264 last season, was given Baseball's Most Improved Player Award.

Most Valuable Player of the Year was Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. Jim Nash, a Kansas City pitcher from nearby Marietta, was named Rookie of the Year. He had a 12-1 record.

Earle Mack Dies At 78

DREXEL HILL, Pa. (AP) — Earle Mack, a former owner of the old Philadelphia Athletics, and son of Connie Mack, who founded the team, died Sunday in Delaware County Hospital. He was 78.

Mack, the second of three sons of Connie Mack, served with his late brother, Roy, as officers and owners of the club for several years before it was sold in 1954 and transferred to Kansas City.

Mack had a long interest in baseball, played for minor league teams at Raleigh and Asheville, N.C., and managed at Charlotte, N.C., before 1920. He also played five games with the A's.

Surviving are a son, Earle Jr., and a grandson.

Celtics Run Past Royals, 137-121

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics are racing at top speed and fans are shouting "They're off" in the team's stretch drive to overtake the Philadelphia 76ers in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

"We're running more and, as a result, getting more shots — just the way we've done in the past," Boston player-coach Bill Russell said yesterday after the Celtics' 137-121 romp over the Cincinnati Royals.

The free-wheeling Celtics exploded for 71 points in the first half and breezed to their 12th victory in 13 games, as well as their sixth straight over Cincinnati this season.

"I guess you might say we bounced back pretty good," Russell said in noting the break in an 11-game winning streak by a loss to St. Louis Friday night. "We just ran into a bad night and were clobbered in that one. What did we do? We forgot it."

The Celtics started out slowly against the Royals in their nationally-televised game, falling behind 10-4. They closed the gap to one point, 19-18, at the eight-minute mark.

Then Cincinnati ace Oscar Robertson suffered a split lip in a rebounding jam with Boston's John Havlicek. The Big O required six stitches and sat out the rest of the way, with his mates becoming disorganized in his absence.

"Robertson is a great ball player, but his loss didn't make any difference," Russell said. "The way we were running and hitting the man in the open we couldn't be stopped."

Russell turned playmaker as the Celtics pulled away from a 32-28 first period lead. He set up six field goals with nifty passes in the second quarter and made only a token appearance after that.

Sam Jones scored 20 of his 26 points in the first half, Bailey Howell hit for all of his 18 and Havlicek tallied 14 of his 21.

Detroit, paced by Dave Bing, stopped St. Louis 114-104 on the Pistons' home court in another Sunday afternocn game. San Francisco nipped Chicago 142-141 in overtime and Philadelphia topped Los Angeles 130-123 in Sunday night games.

Bing tossed in 32 points, including eight in a last quarter drive that clinched it, as Detroit scored its first victory over the Hawks in six meetings this year.

Hal Greer threw in 35 points for the 76ers who got double-figure scoring from five other players in winning at Los Angeles.

The Lakers made a bid in the final two minutes, cutting the lead to 126-121. But two foul shots by Green and Chamberlain's basket clinched it for Philadelphia. Jerry West scored 26, Walt Hazzard 25 and Elgin Baylor 24 for the Lakers.

Champ Takes 2 Cars . . . Obviously

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Golfer Tom Nieporte won the Bob Hope Desert Classic yesterday which was worth $17,600 and the use for three years of an expensive Chrysler Imperial Limousine.

But Nieporte decided to make a switch. Instead of the expensive, big car, he chose to take two less expensive vehicles, one a fastback (Plymouth Barracuda) and the other a nine-passenger (Dodge) station wagon.

Nieporte's logic was obvious, particularly for the station wagon. He has a wife and seven children and an eighth child is on the way.

U.S. Skaters Will Go Against Europe's Best

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — Americans were given a good chance against Europe's best in three of four categories in the world championships later this month in Vienna after the 1967 European figure skating competition Saturday.

Defending world titleholder Emmerich Danzer of Austria appeared unbeatable as he easily won the men's division, but he could receive more competition at Vienna from Gary Visconti of Detroit.

Visconti, the new U.S. national champion, finished third in 1966 behind Danzer and Wolfgang Schwarz, also of Austria. Visconti is known as a formidable free skater, a class in which Schwarz did not distinguish himself here.

Defending world champion Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., will oppose Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany, Europe's new gold medalist.

Cynthia and Ronald Kauffman of Seattle, Wash., who finished third last year, are American's best bet in pair skating behind Russia's legendary Ludmila Belousova-Oleg Protopopov team. The Russians won another European gold medal, although their performance was below their usual Bolshoi Ballet standards.

Tatjana Zhuk and Alexander Gorelik, another Russian tandem which competed in 1966, were missing here but could be a challenger if they skate at Vienna.

Margot Glockshuber and Wolfgang Danne of West Germany, runners-up here, also are a threat.

Diane Towler and Bernard Ford of Britain won the dance here, with fellow Britains Yvonne Suddick and Malcolm Cannon second and Brigitte Martin and Francis Gamichon of France third.

Lorna Dyer and John Carrell of Seattle, are America's chief challengers in that category.

O. E. Helgeson, head of the Heart Fund business drive in Marin County, said today he has appointed a team of bankers, retailers and real estate and insurance brokers to solicit donations from local businesses for the 1967 Heart Fund Campaign.

Donna Hart, chairman of the campaign's Heart Sunday Drive, has appealed for 1,000 more volunteers to canvass their neighborhoods Feb. 26.

She said plans are to have 3,000 persons call on 10 neighbors apiece to solicit donations and leave behind material on how to reduce the risk of heart attack. Volunteers should apply at the Marin County Heart Association office, 1363 Lincoln Avenue, she said.

The Mosquito Gets Attention

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The sometimes deadly mosquito was the object of attention today at a gathering of seeral hundred health specialists.

The meeting was the beginning of a joint conference of the California and the American Mosquito Control associations.

Seabees Toil, Make Friends In Vietnam

By Advance News Service

WASHINGTON —The Navy Seabees are back at their old tricks, this time in Vietnam, carving airfields and roads out of dense jungles under sniper fire.

Seven thousand of these construction men in uniform are changing the face of the countryside. They apply Yankee ingenuity with the same zest of the Seabees of World War II.

Called the "Ong Bien" or water beetles by the South Viednamese, the seabees are specializing in "instant airfields."

The Seabees are celebrating their 25th year by forming special construction teams to help villages and to teach Vietnamese workers new skills. One of the 12 enlisted men on each team is a hospital corpsman.

Six of these teams are already at work in South Vietnam and — and six more are assigned to Thailand.

A program for training repatriated Viet Cong youths is being pushed vigorously under the direction of William J. Porter, deputy U. S. ambassador to Saigon. For the first time, many of these ex-Communist guerrilla fighters are being offered a chance to learn a trade other than killing.

Seabee battalions first entered Vietnam in force when they swarmed ashore with the Marines at Chu Lai and Danang in the Spring of 1965.

In their first quarter century the Seabees have acquired a worldwide reputation for genius in moving dirt.

Accustomed to digging and hauling endless tons of gravel for use in mixing concrete, they find it a scarce commodity in Vietnam.

Builders' gravel must often be painstakingly washed from silt or sand in the beds of streams. This gravel-washing chore often brings Vietnamese villages and seabees together for the first time.

Whole villages gather to watch the "water beetles" work their magic, and Navy hospital corpsmen seize these opportunities to offer medical assistance to whole families.

To augment the Seabee regulars in six battalions now in Vietnam, the Navy went back again recently to U. S. construction trades -- for 5,000 new petty officers. Recruiting was turned off almost as soon as it began. All the billets were filled as fast as skilled tradesmen were able to leave their civilian jobs.

Although their main mission is to build things in a hurry, today's Seabees are trained by the Marines to fight when they must.

Proof of Seabee effectiveness in combat is the list of decorations they've won in Vietnam: 3 Silver Stars, 12 Bronze Stars, 36 Navy commendation medals, and 139 Purple Hearts.
